Back Is Against Wall: Threatens To Quit League

PARIS, March 11.—A bill authorizing the organization of the nation on an emergency basis in war time was adopted today by the administrative committee of the Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, March 11.—Germany now has massed 90,000 troops in the Rhineland, War Minister Louis Felix Maurin told the press here today. But for the moment France has taken "sufficient military measures" to meet this implied threat without ordering any mobilization measures, he said.

PARIS, March 11.—A high source declared today that France will quit the League of Nations unless Great Britain backs her demand that Reichsfuehrer Hitler withdraw his troops from the Rhineland.

This source stated that Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister, will take a warning of such possible action with him when he goes to London tomorrow for a conference of Locarno treaty signatories.

Officials said Flandin was prepared to tell Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that France was not alone in her stand against further occupation of the Rhineland by German troops.

KNOW WAR COMING

An authoritative spokesman declared:

"We know war is coming in two years anyhow. We might as well have it now, while we are prepared.

"The only way in which Hitler's troops will leave the Rhineland is for the Locarno signatories to drive them out, but a stitch in time saves nine."

One official said, "This time, France will be satisfied with no gestures. Germany must remove at least 70 per cent of her troops from the Rhineland. The world must know that Germany has ceded."

This source said he admitted he was unable to see how Hitler, as a dictator, could withdraw 70 per cent of his troops or even a smaller percentage.

Other sources suggested France

BRITON CABINET IS CALLED FOR EXTRA SESSION

Prime Minister Baldwin Summons Special Meeting to Hear Eden

LONDON, March 11.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin summoned the cabinet in emergency session for 6 p.m. today to hear a full report on the grave Paris Locarno discussions from Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Viscount Halifax, Lord Privy Seal.

The decision to call the extraordinary cabinet session in the Premier's House of Commons offices was reached at this morning's regular weekly session of the ministers.

It will precede by only a few hours renewed efforts by Locarno signatories, transferred suddenly from Paris to London, to find a solution of the vexing problem of Nazi remilitarization of the Rhineland.

LOCARNO POST-MORTEM

As host to Locarno's post-mortem, Great Britain hoped to solve the problem in a calm and historic atmosphere. The cabinet, with newly-won parliamentary approval of Britain's defence program, will hear at the emergency meeting the full report of Eden and Viscount Halifax on yesterday's preliminary negotiations in Paris.

There, said unofficial Paris reports, Britain balked at harsh and punitive action against the Nazi Reich for its military march into the Rhineland, but offered the French "strong military guarantees" as a reward for new negotiation with Adolf Hitler.

ROME, March 11.—An Italian official said today Italy cannot collaborate with Britain and France under the Locarno treaty as long as war sanctions exist against the Fascist nation.

Italy's attitude at the Locarno signatories meeting, this official said, will be one of "absolute reserve" although Premier Mussolini will probably be represented by Dino Grandin, his ambassador to London.

Any discussion of peace in East Africa, the Italian official declared, will have to await at least a preliminary settlement of the difficulties raised by Germany's Rhineland decision.

Bear Lake Portage Is Now Sure

By THOMAS WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, March 11.—To circumvent the Bear river rapids and open the way into the radium fields of Great Bear lake, the government is providing $16,000 to complete the Bear river portage road. The new portage will facilitate the handling of freight to and from the Great Bear lake mineral areas and the open waterways of the Mackenzie river.

J. A. MacKinnnon (Lib., Edmonton) has been pressing for the opening of the road and in addition has been successful in getting $18,000 for an extension to the breakwater at Fort Resolution and $5,000 for repairs to it. The air mail planes have met with several mishaps coming down on the rough unprotected waters and the Hudson's Bay river boats have also had some difficulty.

Directions have also been issued at Mr. MacKinnon's urging for a survey of the channel of the Athabasca river for a distance of four or five miles down river from Fort McMurray, starting point for the Mackenzie river air mail and steamship lines. The survey is to be made to ascertain the possibility of maintaining a permanent river channel through the shallows at this point.

Little Entente Lines Up In Protest Against Hitler Reoccupation

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY,

Associated Press Foreign Staff

GENEVA, March 11. — Representatives of five nations allied in the Little and Balkan Ententes decided today to support the French protest against German reoccupation of the Rhineland.

The nations represented at the session were Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia, composing the Little Entente, and Greece and Turkey, which with Rumania and Yugoslavia, make up the Balkan Entente. Nicholas Titulescu, foreign minister of Rumania, presided. Titulescu was to leave for London tonight to attend the session of the League of Nations Council.

Some League circles forecast that a preliminary exchange of views on the proposal for peace in East Africa will also be considered at the London council session, together with the Locarno situation.

SABOTAGE IN NAVY STILL ON

LONDON, March 11.—Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the Admiralty, disclosed another case of suspected sabotage in the British navy to the House of Commons today.

The latest case, he said, occurred in a private dockyard carrying out admiralty work.

Six cases of sabotage already had been announced. Lord Stanley said the damage was slight although potentially serious. Admiralty officials said they believed the epidemic of sabotage was the work of cranks rather than foreigners.

Suggestion to Reduce Sessional Allowances Two Leaders Rapped

Characterized by C. Gerald O'Connor, Liberal, Edmonton, as "the smallest thing I ever heard," suggestion was advanced in the legislature on Tuesday by R. E. Ansley, B.C., Leduc, that sessional allowances of the Liberal and Conservative leaders be reduced by 50 per cent. The suggestion, which was later held over for future discussion, was made during consideration of estimates.

A storm of opposition broke from opposition benches when the Ansley suggestion was advanced. Lack of confidence was construed in some quarters on the part of Mr. Ansley as the vote had been included by the government.

The afternoon session had been under way only a short time when the appropriation was reached which includes an allowance over and above indemnity, for opposition leaders.

This allowance totals $2,160 and has been included in estimates for several years.

Last year this allowance was shared by four opposition leaders, but this year, owing to the fact that there are only two parties represented in the opposition, the allowance would be divided between them.

Mr. Ansley contended if the vote was approved, each opposition leader would receive more than $1,000 in excess of his sessional indemnity, which would be $305 more than received by the deputy speaker. If the allowance was halved, each opposition leader still would receive as much as was re-

OTTAWA, March 11.—Negotiations between the ministry of labor and the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railways are being rapidly consummated, for the employment of men now in relief camps. It is estimated 10,000 men will be affected in the new plan.

It had been hoped to get some of the men to work by April first, but this has not been found possible. At present they are all now getting paid in the relief camps at the rate of $15 a month. At the end of the present month the men will get $7.50 in cash and a credit of $7.50, which latter will accumulate until the men leave the camps, and they can draw again this credit at the rate of $4 a week until it is exhausted. In special cases of hardship the men are getting small advances against this pay, but payday normally will be the end of the month.

When the railways take the men on to actual work for pay, the pay will be the prevailing rates in the

EARL BEATTY SUCCUMBS TO HIS ILLNESS

Death Removes Outstanding Figure in the Navy During War

LONDON, March 11.—Earl Beatty, former Admiral of the Fleet, died late last night. He had been ill for several weeks. He was 65 years old.

Death came to the war-time naval hero at the London home for the admiral where he had been under treatment.

EXPECTED END SOON

"So Jellicoe is gone," he said then. "I feel I'll be the next to be summoned. I don't think the call will be long. I'm tired, very tired."

Among those who attended Earl Beatty during his last illness were Lord Horder, physician to the King, and Sir Maurice Cassidy, the heart specialist who was called in during the fatal illness of King George last January.

Alberta's Nimrod-King Is Finally To Make World Hearts A-flutter

Edward VIII Nuptials Cited

LONDON, March 11.—The possibility that Edward VIII, bachelor King of England, may marry was officially announced in the House of Commons today in a message signed by the King.

The unmarried status of Edward, now 41, long has been one of the outstanding topics of conversation in the British Empire and the world at large.

As Prince of Wales, he was termed "the world's most eligible bachelor."

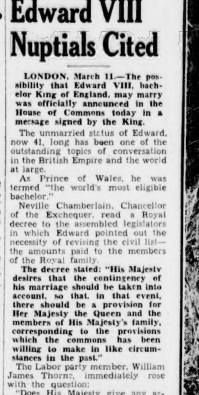

Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, read a Royal decree to the assembled legislators in which Edward pointed out the necessity of revising the civil list—the amounts paid to the members of the Royal family.

The decree stated: "His Majesty desires that the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account, so that, in that event, there should be a provision for Her Majesty the Queen and the members of His Majesty's family, corresponding to the provisions which the commons has been willing to make in like circumstances in the past."

"Does His Majesty give any assurance that he is going to get married?"

But Chamberlain did not answer.

This exclusive photograph was taken in 1919 during King Edward's first visit to western Canada as Prince of Wales. The duck-hunting lodge at Lake Manitoba was a quarter of a mile from the boats. Indian guides had to break a channel at the time through the ice for the party's boats at 5 a.m. After being refreshed and warmed by a hot cup of coffee and some sandwiches, thoughtfully arranged by the photographer, on his return, His Majesty remarked, "You may now take your shot," with the above result.

Canada-U.S. Trade Pact Now Ratified At Ottawa

OTTAWA, March 11—The Canadian-American trade treaty was ratified last night by the House of Commons, the government rolling up a majority of 136 on the deciding motion.

Enlisting the support of everyone in the house excepting Conservatives, ratification gained 175 votes to 39 against. Voting with 155 Liberals were one C.C.F. member, 12 Social Crediters and the one Reconstructionist.

The division ended two weeks of debate in which 45 members spoke hundreds of thousands of words for and against the treaty, the first negotiated between Washington and Ottawa in 70 years.

Continuing, he said that "The caucus is considering carefully the whole situation. It has no desire to lose the opportunity of having Major Douglas here."

NAZIS EXTEND MILITARY HAND FOR CANADIANS

German Citizens Living in Dominion to be Conscripted

MONTREAL, March 11.—German citizens living in Canada and Newfoundland are to be conscripted for possible service in the German army, it was announced today in a written statement from the office of Ludwig Kempff, consul general for Germany in Canada.

Germans who have become naturalized British subjects are not affected by the German law, the statement said. "For under the act of July 22, 1913, a German citizen, who acquires voluntarily another nationality, loses—as a matter of principle—his German citizenship."

The statement continues:

"In 1936 all male German Nationals in Canada and Newfoundland, who were born in 1914, 1915 and 1916 are being called up for active military service, the class of 1916 first for the Reich labor service.

"Those three classes have to report immediately, until March 31st at the latest, to the competent German consular authorities. Those living in the provinces of Ontario, Quebec, the Maritimes, the Yukon, the Northwest Territories and in Newfoundland have to report to the consulate-general at Montreal, those living in the western provinces to the German consulate at

BOULANGER BILL IS TALKED OUT IN COMMONS

MEASURE WILL BE DISCUSSED AGAIN LATER

Bill Would Overhaul Machinery for Filling Government Jobs—Bennett Leads Attack.

OTTAWA, March 11. — The Boulanger bill to overhaul the machinery for filling government jobs was talked out in the House of Commons last night after Secretary of State Rinfret offered to send it to a special committee for full study. It will be discussed later in the session.

Conservative Leader Bennett led an attack on the bill which lasted the full hour devoted to private members' legislation. He called it an attempt to return to party patronage and negation of the long-established merit system of employment.

PROPOSED THREE THINGS

The bill, introduced by Oscar Boulanger (Lib., Bellechasse) proposed three things:

To limit returned soldiers' preference to Canadians and not include veterans of all Allied armies; to divorce the outside service, or federal employees outside Ottawa from the civil service commission; to give cabinet ministers and not the commission power to fill professional and technical positions.

The secretary of state said everyone wanted to maintain the merit system. He would not say parliament should accept the Boulanger bill in all aspects because it was sweeping and already had the opposition of civil service organizations.

To approve or disapprove the bill was too much to expect all at once, Mr. Rinfret said, suggesting it be sent to a special committee. Later he said this would not commit members to the principle of the bill.

Adoption of the bill, said Mr. Bennett, would mean negation of everything done through the years to protect the merit system. "It is perfectly clear." the Conservative leader said, "the aim of this bill is to restore patronage in full."

Perhaps under present conditions it might be wise to limit soldiers' preference to Canadians, Mr. Bennett admitted, but he could not agree the outside service should be divorced from the commission.

CANADA HAS BEEN SLOW

Mr. Bennett also protested against the proposal dealing with technical appointments. Canada had been slow to adopt the U.S. civil service and nothing should be done to restore patronage, he said.

C. G. (Grant) McNeil (C.C.F.-Vancouver North) agreed the bill meant return to patronage. Veterans' organizations, he was sure, were alarmed at proposals to abolish competitive examinations. He did not think the preference would be applicable to any degree if the Boulanger bill passed.

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, talked until the hour was up, automatically ending debate. He also termed the bill a return to patronage. One difficulty of the past, Mr. Woodsworth said, was due to disappointments being made for political purposes but the way to end that was to change the commission.

"The caucus feels it is the bounden duty of Major Douglas to come and implement his plan here. We feel the world may misinterpret his hesitation."

The caucus was the longest the Social Credit members have held, in one sitting, since they were elected.

The members met at 8:30 p.m. and adjourned at 1:45 a.m.

Premier Aberhart on Wednesday stated that the subject probably would be discussed again in caucus on Thursday night.

While ranks of the members were split on the preferential method on the Douglas cablegram, they were united in the belief that he should come here.

It is believed the government is considering calling him for further explanation of his cables to control.

Mr. O'Connor was quick to rise and attack Mr. Ansley for his suggestion. Fixing his gaze intently on Mr. Ansley, he declared that I think this is the smallest suggestion I have ever heard in any legislature." He further declared that if was to his knowledge, the first time that any such suggestion had been made by a government in power.

SUPPORTED MOTION

H. J. Ash (S.C. Olds) supported the motion, and Mr. Bellechasse proposed grant to opposition leaders was in the nature of something for nothing.

John Irwin (Conservative, Calgary), sprang to his feet and pointed out that opposition leaders had a great deal to do in the way of work outside the house, in travelling, meeting people and other activities.

N. B. James, S.C., Acadia, sought information on duties of opposition leaders.

L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, was quick to his feet. "I'll tell you what they do," he said. "It is to keep the government straight and furthermore, I want to inform members of this house that the leaders of opposition parties have plenty to do and more responsibilities than the majority of members in this house.

"If you are going to consider economy in this regard, then we can go through the estimates and cut $2,000,000 out. This amount does not come anywhere near representing the extra expense for their work. There is no question about that. The vote is well justified."

He added:

"It cannot go on, but where can it stop? . . . If they go on, there is bankruptcy. If they stop, there is tremendous unemployment."

But David Lloyd George, the wartime Prime Minister, featured Germany, though "reckless and brainless and a bad speculator," could get evidence which any judge would say provided some mitigation of her fault."

C. P. R. MAIN LINE CLEARED

REVELSTOKE, B.C., March 11.—Traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway proceeded Tuesday following clearing of a mud and snow slide 17 miles west of Revelstoke. Three trainmen escaped serious injury when a freight train crashed into the slide last night, derailing the engine and nine cars.

The locomotive crashed down an embankment about 100 feet and came to a stop after the engine's nose had broken through the ice of Griffin Lake. Engineer E. Shaw was trapped in the cab but was dug out of the debris after half an hour. He was uninjured.

Fireman H. Roberts and Trainmen A. W. Gillis jumped clear when the accident occurred. Gillis suffered a slight wound.

Two days hence—on Saturday—the League of Nations council, its solemn session to consider Franco-Belgian appeal from Hitler's action transferred from Geneva, also will convene in London, probably in the picture gallery of St. James' Palace, scene of history-making events of recent years.

The sudden decisions that made London again the nerve-centre of Europe's manifold woes left political circles bewildered.

The preparations for the two conferences found the National government holding emphatic House of Commons approval of the three-year, £300,000,000 program for army, navy and air force expansion.

By a vote of 371 to 153, the House of Commons last night, after a white paper outlining the far-reaching defence scheme, while government supporters broke down a Labor motion of non-confidence, 378 to 148.

France's foreign and war ministers, Pierre-Etienne Flandin and Joseph Paul-Boncour, were following Eden and Baldwin to London. Il Duce's British ambassador, Dino Grandi, will represent Italy.

GERMANY NOT HERE

While it was not yet clear whether Germany would or would not have an envoy at the discussions either Thursday or Saturday, observers believed the Nazi Fuehrer Owen, no more likely to participate in London than in Geneva.

Germany's future—and a dark future it is—was considered the parliamentary debate preceding the armament vote.

Winston Churchill, frequent antagonist of the new Germany, pointed out that "several millions of Germans have been marshalled and found employment in munitions manufacture or in the armed forces." On the other hand, he said, "the whole structure is supported by borrowed money and the financial position has become such that it cannot go on indefinitely."

He added:

"It can't go on, but where can it stop? . . . If they go on, there is bankruptcy. If they stop, there is tremendous unemployment."

districts in which the men are employed.

OTTAWA, March 11.—Prospects of an early spring breakup have been realized with the announcement in the House of Commons last night that a total of 10,000 unemployed, many of whom now are in relief camps, will be given railway maintenance work will be absorbed as early as April 1 in British Columbia, with a like starting date in the midwest and western provinces.

It is understood the railways will each spend $1,500,000 for this purpose and the Federal government $3,000,000, making a $6,000,000 maintenance program which should occupy the normal relief camp population throughout the summer.

Canadian Privy Council Agent In London Dies

LONDON, March 11—F. A. C. Redden, 70, privy council agent in London since 1907, died today. He opened a partnership with the late Samuel Blake, son of the famous Hon. Edward Blake, which was dissolved after Samuel Blake's death by Redden himself. He was the agent for practically every important Canadian appeal brought before the judicial committee of the privy council in the last 40 years.

Mr. Redden was born in Ontario and educated at Upper Canada College, Toronto and Cambridge. In 1926 he married Miss Jane Gordon of Hamilton, Ont.

Successor To Justice Lamont Likely Chosen

OTTAWA, March 11—Mr. Justice W. M. Martin of the Saskatchewan Court of Appeals may succeed the late Mr. Justice Lamont on the Supreme Court of Canada, according to well informed government sources. Judge Martin was formerly Premier of Saskatchewan.

Not Sure Garbo Aboard Steamer

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, March 11—The S.S. Drottningholm sailed on schedule for New York Tuesday, but her passengers were uncertain as to whether Greta Garbo was among them.

All they knew was that one cabin was reserved in the elusive actress' name and that extra police were called out to control the crowd on the dock. But nobody saw Garbo.

Cobb Sleeps In Garbo's Former Bed

IRVIN S. COBB

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 11.—Perdita S. Cobb, the novelist, is sleeping in Greta Garbo's former bed these days and planning to follow in her footsteps in the movies.

"I live in the house she used to live in and I sleep in the bed she used to sleep in," Cobb explained. "But being a movie star is just pure vanity on my part. I'm not conceited enough to wait until I'm danged near 60 years old before starting a totally new career."

He is well along with it.

The celebrated Indianola, Ky., novelist, is about to sign a new contract with 20th Century-Fox studios, calling him to star in two more pictures.

This is on the strength of his most recent film, "Judge's Old Man," along with "Steam Boat 'Round the Bend," in which he appeared with Will Rogers.

went into effect Jan. 1, including all tariff changes. Although ratified, the agreement will not have the force of law until parliament passes the necessary bill and this may not be for another week or 10 days. The house today will start reviewing the tariff changes in committee.

PREMIER ENDS DEBATE

Premier King ended debate a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night. His last words were to the effect he thought the country wanted to know just how the house regarded the treaty. But he almost didn't find out.

When the Prime Minister took his seat and Hon. Norman Rogers, justification motion, there was a long silence. Finally, the finance minister jumped to his feet, reaching across the aisle to grab the sleeve of the Prime Minister. Only in that way could he be heard above government members rising slowly and singly behind the Prime Minister. It drew a laugh from the Conservatives.

FORCED TO CALL VOTE

The Liberals were forced to call the vote on their own motion, as the Conservatives made no move to do so. Had Finance Minister Dunning not moved, the motion would have passed without a recorded vote.

Ending debate for the Conservatives was E. J. Lawson (Conn., South York) who predicted it would lead to Canadians losing jobs. He did not believe it would give the United States economic domination in Canada, but it might increase Canadian purchases from that country "and I say this agreement is making a serious contribution to the economic domination of the country by the United States."

If that comes, continued Mr. Lawson, "it will only be a short time until we become one or more states of the union."

B.C. Opposes Breaking Treaty To Protect Fish

VICTORIA, March 11.—The British Columbia legislature was on record today as opposed to rescind Canada's ratification of the Sockeye salmon fisheries convention with the United States.

The legislature urged the provincial commissioner of fisheries, Hon. G. S. Pearkes, to use his good offices to secure ratification of the treaty by the United States as soon as possible.

NO OVERT ACT IN RHINELAND SAYS HITLER

German Government Will Do Nothing More Correspondent Told

LONDON, March 11.—Germany will commit no overt act in the Rhineland, Reichsfuehrer Hitler told Ward Price, correspondent of the London Daily Mail, in a special interview at Munich Tuesday.

"The German government will do nothing more in its sphere," he said, "to alter the existing situation. We have re-established sovereignty in the Reich and brought back one of the oldest parts of Germany under the protection of the entire nation. We therefore have no reason to fix any time limit to the proposals that have been made."

Planes Fly Over France

By CHARLES FOLTZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

STRASBOURG, France, March 11—Three new war planes were reported to have flown Tuesday over French Rhineland territory, reinforced over the week-end by 50,000 troops.

Military headquarters at Metz was informed that a German observation ship hovered over Montmedy early today and that the similar planes flew over Kanfen and Veckring in the afternoon.

NO INFORMATION

Although the officers said they were convinced the Germans are seeking a view of French troop concentrations, officials would give out no information. The planes were believed to have come from Trier.

The French general staff, meeting at Metz, discussed "strong measures" to prevent such flights by German planes, following the sighting of one yesterday over the fortress at Thionville. That craft was pursued back to the German border by French planes.

TWO MORE SEEN

Parish churches of French frontier provinces were crowded Tuesday with women and children praying that there will not be another war. These people had heard rumors that old Imperial regiments, stationed in Alsace before 1914, have been revived in Adolf Hitler's Rhineland army.

Troop movements being a more French soldiers to the front passed through Metz and Nancy. Trucks and railroad cars were being brought up.

Belgium continued to withdraw money from banks in border cities and it was estimated that 3,000,000 francs were removed in Metz alone yesterday.

LEAGUE NOT TO BE BILLED

LONDON, March 11—The League of Nations will not be billed for $35,000,000 special military and naval expenses incurred by Great Britain during the war in the Italo-Ethiopian erie", the House of Commons was told last night.

The statement in question by Col. Henry Burton, Conservative, Lord Cranborne, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, said he had no information regarding expenses incurred by other members of the League.

DUST BILLOWS ACROSS STATES

GUYMON, Okla., March 11.—March winds billowed dust across the southwestern United States today, but crop observers said wheat was in condition to weather the storm if it subsided soon.

Two hundred yards was the limit of visibility here and at Beaver, Okla., a high north wind screened roads with silt, forcing traffic to crawl. Automobile drivers switched on headlights at noon.

Boise City, Calif., was peppered by dust.

Housewives complained that the fine texture of the dust made it nearly impossible to remove from houses and furniture.

Police On Lookout For Kidnap Suspect

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 11—Louisville police were on the lookout last night for a man said to answer the description of William Marion Hamm in connection with the kidnapping last week at Tacoma, Wash., of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser.

A teletype order instructing police to watch for Mahan was sent to all police districts after they received that a man resembling Mahan had been seen on a Louisville street.

Department of justice agents discounted the report, believing it a case of mistaken identity.

Belgium Warned Bolster Defence On East Frontier

Copyright, 1936, by Havas News Agency

BRUSSELS, March 11—Belgium was warned Tuesday by War Minister Devese that her defence garrisons along the eastern frontier must be reinforced, and that the reoccupation of the Rhineland by Germany has completely altered the country's security problem.

Devese advanced that point in support of a bill he introduced before the army commission seeking authority to retain certain military classes under the colors after their limit of service has been reached. The minister asked for a simple decree empowering him to keep any part or all of the yearly contingent troops.

OTTAWA, March 11.—The announcement of the German consul general, Ludwig Kempff that German citizens in Canada and Newfoundland are to be conscripted is being considered by the Dominion authorities. It is pointed out that Mr. Kempff may make a further announcement he pleases about "conscription," and about punishment for failure to report, but as long as the Germans remain in Canada, and out of Germany no such punishment can be inflicted.

The consul general's invitation to Germans to enlist may be taken official cognizance of, as no foreign power has any right to enlist troops in Canada. As Germany is not in a state of war, the status of the invitation of enlistment may not be invoked as yet.

Many of naturalized Germans in Canada is clear as long as they are in Canada; they are British subjects. But if they go to Germany there is a possibility of their being held and conscripted. They cannot, however, be conscripted in Canada or interfered with by Germany in any way.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT

The Senate did not sit.

The House voted 175-39 to ratify the Canada-United States trade agreement. It talked out the bill of Oscar Boulanger (Lib., Bellechasse) to overhaul the Civil Service Act, limit war veterans' preference for positions, and give cabinet ministers power to appoint officers to technical posts. It heard Prime Minister Mackenzie King say Canada had no commitments under the Locarno treaty which Germany denounced Saturday.

LAMSON TAKES WITNESS STAND

SAN JOSE, Calif., March 11—Speaking under obvious strain, David A. Lamson, formerly of Red Deer, Alta., accused of murdering his young wife nearly three years ago, occupied the witness stand in his third trial Tuesday.

After direct examination by Leo R. Friedman, chief defense counsel, Lamson was subjected to a grilling cross-examination by Prosecutor Allan P. Lindsay, who waved the dead woman's night gown, bloodstained, in the pipe the state says is the murder weapon, and other exhibits in front of the defendant.

John Homer Black Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, March 11 — John Homer Black, 61, prominent in Canad an financial, industrial and mining circles, died suddenly at his home here last night.

Born at Smith's Falls, Ont., Mr. Smith held directorships or important positions with the Great Lakes Paper Company, Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Dominion Construction Corporation, Keeley Silver Mines, Vipond Consolidated Gold Mines, Canadian General Electric Company and other companies. He was general superintendent of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway from 1904 to 1911.

might not be the only power which would quit the League of Nations if Hitler did not remove his troops.

French officials said it was necessary that Great Britain back France at this moment in order to prevent "the death of the League of Nations."

When the Locarno signatories reassemble tomorrow, informed sources said, the Paris government would refuse to discuss any settlement that did not include guarantees against fortification of the Rhine territory, bordering on both France and Belgium.

In this connection, it was emphasized, France would not be content with only any pledge from Germany unless it was supported by guarantees from Britain and Italy.

The apparent deadlock would seem to permit the reich to maintain some troops in the demilitarized zone, provided no fortifications were constructed, was attributed to recognition of the extreme mobility of modern motorized military units.

HUGE SUM FOR AIR DEFENCES

LONDON, March 11—Budget estimates issued Tuesday revealed the government will spend £50,000,000 of its 1936 budget for strengthening the country's air defence program. This sum would equate the interest in the home office budget over that of 1935.

Most of the money will be used for protection against gas attacks, but $250,000 will be used to train the civilian population in the use of protective devices.

ALBERTA CENSUS TAKERS NAMED

OTTAWA, March 11—Appointment of the following commissioners in connection with the census of the prairie province to be taken next June 2 was announced today by Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce.

Appointment of enumerators, who will conduct the house-to-house and farm-to-farm canvass, will be made on recommendation of the census commissioners.

Commissioners appointed in Alberta by districts follows:

Acadia—Fred W. Beynon, Esther; Athabaska—Alex. Ross, Athabaska; Battle River—J. A. Mackenzie, Wainwright; Bow River—Jas. E. Herron, Calgary East—F. S. Jacobs, Dominion; Calgary West—R. B. Nicholson, Calgary; Camrose—L. J. Shepard, Alliance.

BOMB RAIDS TO BE HALTED

LONDON, March 11—Marshal Pietro Badoglio's fliers have been ordered to halt their bombing raids on British Red Cross units in Ethiopia, Great Britain was officially informed last night.

The Italian order was coupled with instructions to the East African high command to initiate a new investigation of the circumstances in which the hospitals were bombed, it was learned.

Duty Removal On Petroleum Products Urged

REGINA, March 11—Without a dissenting vote, the Saskatchewan legislature endorsed a resolution Tuesday, calling for the removal of all duty and other restrictions on all petroleum products.

The motion, sponsored by A. Lloyd Lambert (Lib., Pheasant Hills) follows:

That in the opinion of this assembly the Government of Saskatchewan should urge upon the Government of Canada the necessity of immediately removing all duty on petroleum products and all other restrictions to their free importation."

In moving the resolution, Mr. Lambert pointed out that consumers of gasoline in western Canada were paying heavy tolls on gasoline as a result of tariffs and that Saskatchewan, with an average yearly consumption of about 70,000,000 gallons, was paying upwards of $1,800,000 in tolls yearly due entirely to tariff imposts.

Bus, Taxi Strike Ended In London

FRANCE READY TO DEMAND MILITARY ACTION

GERMANY MUST GUARANTEE NOT TO ERECT FORTS

BRITISH PLAN FOR DEFENCE IS ENDORSED

Motion Approving White Paper Carried by Vote Of 371 to 153

LONDON, March 11.—The government's plans to build up Britain's defences were endorsed last night by the House of Commons at the conclusion of a debate overshadowed by the situation in Europe arising out of Germany's latest defiance of the Versailles treaty and her abrogation of the Locarno pact.

A motion approving the white paper on defences tabled in the Commons a week ago was carried by a vote of 371 to 153 after a Labor amendment had been defeated, 378 to 155. The amendment condemned the government for its failure to include any provision for joint disarmament in the white paper, which called for extensive rearmament.

SITUATION WOULD CHANGE

Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the events of last week-end confirmed the statements in the white paper that the situation would change periodically and that the defence plans would have to be revised accordingly.

"Collective security has not yet reached the point where national safety no longer needs consideration," he warned in concluding the debate for the government.

Winston Churchill, who has held numerous cabinet posts in former administrations, and other speakers warned of the situation created by Germany's rearmament. Churchill said Germany faced a choice between internal and external catastrophe and he feared she would choose the latter.

CHURCHILL SUGGESTED

Sir Roger Keyes, admiral of the fleet, suggested Churchill's name as the minister who will be charged with the co-ordination of Britain's defence services. He said it was important to have for that post a statesman of wide experience, vision and determination.

(One of the provisions included in the white paper on rearmament was the appointment of a minister whose task it would be to co-ordinate the work of the army, the navy and the airforce. When the white paper was tabled, Prime Minister Baldwin said the minister would be named "soon.")

VISITS TO PALACE

Mr. Baldwin and Alfred Duff Cooper, secretary for war, made separate visits to Buckingham Palace Tuesday, where they were received by the King. There was some speculation in the lobbies of the House of Commons as to whether Duff Cooper had been chosen by the Prime Minister for the new post.

Herbert Morrison, former Labor cabinet minister, concluded the defence debate for the Labor opposition. He said his party was united in condemning practically the whole of the government's foreign policy.

"The government is using the phrase 'collective security' as a cloak for the old, unilateral, competitive armaments on a large scale," he asserted.

The Labor party believed that Socialism was the surest guarantee of peace in the world, said Morrison.

Vancouver Man Is Summoned As Juror For His Own Trial

VANCOUVER, March 11.—Robert Mackenzie Ritchie, 26-year-old Vancouver fireman charged with manslaughter, was summoned as a juror for his own trial Tuesday when his case came before the assize court. He pleaded not guilty.

Ritchie was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson, 63, last Oct. 22. She had been struck by an automobile allegedly driven by Ritchie.

The trial proceeded without reference to the coincidence of Ritchie being selected as one of the 48 persons chosen for jury duty. The case is continuing.

Rites Held For Alberta Oil Man

CALGARY, March 11. — Funeral services for A. W. Dingman, 85, grand old man of the Alberta oil industry, were held here Tuesday. Many prominent oil men attended. Mr. Dingman, who drilled the Discovery well in Turner Valley in 1914, died Saturday.

The body was shipped to Toronto where interment will take place in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Mr. Dingman was associated with the company that installed electric light in Toronto and several other Ontario cities.

PARIS, March 11.—France, if necessary, is ready to demand concerted military action against Germany unless the reich satisfactorily guarantees it will not construct fortifications in the remilitarized Rhineland, Havas learned from high sources last night.

When the Locarno signatories resume their conversations in London Thursday France will refuse to discuss any solution not recognizing this primary demand, this source said.

The same informant declared France considered the mere presence of German troops in the Rhineland as of secondary importance, provided the Berlin government would promise, under certain specified conditions, not to build stationary fortified strongholds as bases for its forces.

TAKEN FOR GRANTED

Whatever action is taken depends on the attitude of the League of Nations' council when it meets in London on Saturday, it was said. It is taken for granted here, however, the council will accuse the Reich of violating the Locarno and Versailles treaties.

The government is counting on complete co-operation from Great Britain and Italy in meeting the situation created by Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland, assuming the League of Nations' council finds the German action violated the Locarno treaty, it was learned.

MOMENTOUS DAY

This attitude on the part of the French government developed at the end of a momentous day during which the four signatories of the Locarno pact conferred in Paris and Premier Albert Sarraut in the chamber of deputies replied to the German memorandum of last Saturday.

Well informed French quarters predicted Britain and Italy, as cosignatories of the Locarno treaty, would co-operate "to the limit" with France, assuming the league council holds the Reich's act violated the treaty.

Germany May Send Delegate

LONDON, March 11.—Transfer of the League of Nations council session from Geneva to London may prompt Germany to send a representative to Saturday's meeting, it was believed in informed quarters last night.

Unofficial advice from private sources in Berlin indicated Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Hitler's ambassador-at-large, probably would be delegated to represent Germany. The council will have before it French and Belgian protests against the Reich's repudiation of the Locarno treaty.

GENEVA, March 11.—The convocation of a session of the League of Nations' council in London Saturday instead of in Geneva created a shock in international circles here last night and was swiftly interpreted as meaning the "Locarno crisis" continues to be serious.

Reports received here coupled with Premier Sarraut's speech Tuesday in Paris gave rise to the impression the French had stiffened their attitude and are insisting upon sanctions against Germany, or at least a "symbolic" withdrawal of German troops from the Rhine before undertaking negotiations for a new Locarno treaty.

The fact that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Lord Halifax, lord privy seal, wished to consult the British cabinet was interpreted to mean that the French attitude was such that a new British cabinet meeting was necessary to meet the changing situation.

9 DESTROYERS ORDERED HOME

LONDON, March 11.—Nine destroyers of the home fleet, now in the Mediterranean, last night were ordered to return to their Portsmouth base, where they will receive orders to proceed to a new but as yet unannounced destination, it was learned authoritatively last night.

The admiralty was understood to have recalled the fifth destroyer flotilla, comprising the Wallace, Vimy, Velox, Versatile, Vortigern, Walker, Watchman, Warwick and Wessex.

Nine destroyers of the sixth flotilla simultaneously were said to have been ordered to leave Gibraltar for Malta, where they will replace the fifth flotilla.

Eight destroyers of the new "G" class reportedly will depart to Gibraltar to replace the 20th flotilla when this squadron leaves for annual spring manoeuvres in the Mediterranean.

the two outstanding figures in the navy during the war. Jellicoe was in command of the grand fleet in the North Sea from the time war broke out until the end of 1916. Then he was succeeded by Admiral Beatty.

Beatty was placed on the retired list as an Admiral of the Fleet on Jan. 17 last, when he reached the age limit of 65.

His death indirectly created a vacancy in the House of Commons. The heir to the title, his son, Viscount Borodale, is Conservative member for Camberwell-Peckham.

HAD RAPID RISE

Admiral Beatty's rise in the naval service was rapid. He had a wide range of experience, both practical and administrative, before the outbreak of the Great War, which found him in command of the first battle cruiser squadron, a position second in importance only to that of Jellicoe, commander-in-chief.

He started as a naval cadet at the age of 13. Eight years later he became a lieutenant and after the Sudan campaign of 1896-8, in which he operated on the Nile, he was made a commander. Beatty became a captain at the age of 29, after giving a good account of himself in the Boxer uprising in China.

NAVAL SECRETARY

Winston Churchill, who was First Lord of the Admiralty in 1911, chose Beatty as his naval secretary and two years later he was given command of the first battle cruiser squadron.

First in the Heligoland Bight operation in 1914, then in the terrific Dogger Bank action in 1915 and a year later at Jutland, Beatty lived up to the highest traditions of British naval seamanship and won himself renown for his exploits.

Shortly after the Armistice Beatty, then Sir David Beatty, received the surrender of the German fleet at Scapa Flow in the Orkneys. He was elevated to the peerage in 1919 and received a grant from parliament and the thanks of the nation for his war services.

Beatty Twice Visited States

NEW YORK, March 11—Earl Beatty, who died in London last night, twice visited the United States, once in Oct. 1921, as adviser to the British delegation at the Washington naval conference, and again in Oct. 1932, in connection with the settlement of the estate of his deceased wife.

In 1921 he was formally welcomed in New York by the late Mayor John Hylan and representatives of the governor, but immediately retreated from the spotlight and remained incognito, going about the city in civilian garb.

Later that year he paid a brief visit to eastern Canada, including Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto.

Earl Beatty was active at the Washington conference in bringing about reductions in the British fleet. He said on his later visit that the Royal navy, although weakened, still remained supreme as a defence unit.

One of the theories he championed was that a naval force is superior to an air force.

W. EDMONTON LIBERAL FOR RECIPROCITY

James A. M'Kinnon Lauds Premier King for Negotiating Treaty

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, March, 11—James A. MacKinnon, (Liberal, West Edmonton), Tuesday pledged himself firmly for reciprocity with the United States.

"It had not been my intention to participate at all in this debate," said Mr. MacKinnon, "but it has occurred to me that as the lone Liberal elected from the province of Alberta, there is a responsibility devolving upon me to at least state my position in regard to this matter.

"The merits of this treaty have been discussed thoroughly and exhaustively, and in my opinion no good purpose can be accomplished by further traversing all the arguments so ably put forward during this debate.

"There is one point, however, to which I should like to refer. The Right Hon. Leader of the Opposition, the Hon. Member for West Calgary (Mr. Bennett), has opposed this treaty and has led his party in opposition to it, a treaty in the making of which he certainly had a hand.

I do not want any member of this house or any reader of the proceedings of this house to get the idea that the Right Hon. Gentleman speaks in any way for any measure of Alberta public opinion.

Mr. Speaker, if this treaty were to be submitted to a referendum of the people of Alberta apart from any political prejudice I am very sure that not only would it carry overwhelmingly, but almost unanimously. It is to report to this house what I believe to be the public opinion of that province that I am interjecting these few sentences.

"The Right Hon. Leader of the Government (Mr. Mackenzie King) has been criticized for the speed with which he brought these negotiations to a successful conclusion.

CONGRATULATES KING

"To us in Alberta, Mr. Speaker, that was a hopeful sign, a promise of action and an indication of a readiness to put into effect the overwhelming mandate given him from all parts of Canada. So on behalf of the great volume of progressive Liberal thought in Alberta—and one is wrong who thinks that the limited Liberal representation in this house belies that statement—I wish to congratulate and thank the Right Hon. Leader of the Government and his colleagues for so quickly and so successfully bringing about this very successful treaty."

JAFSIE SAILS FOR NEW YORK

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, March 11.—Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh kidnapping case, sailed for New York last night aboard the liner Santa Inez shortly after Andrew K. Dutch, investigator for Governor Hoffman, of New Jersey, arrived here.

Dutch arrived aboard the Georgic and dined he "Had orders to see Dr. Condon." Dutch said he would sail on the Georgic last night.

ASK REVISION OF DOMINION'S FISCAL POLICY

McGeer Says Demand Will Be Made at Canadian Mayors' Parley

VANCOUVER, March 11.—Wide revision of the Dominion government's existing fiscal policy will be demanded at the Canadian mayors' conference in Ottawa this month, Mayor McGeer said Monday on his return from the east.

He warned that there is a strong "reactionary element" in Ottawa which demands a balanced budget, even if it means provinces and municipalities will be given no assistance.

COMBAT VIGOROUSLY

Such a policy must be vigorously combatted, he said, and it is for this reason Canadian mayors will gather on March 21 to insist on federal financial assistance this year to provinces and municipalities.

The mayor said nothing definite was yet known of the details of the Dominion government's recovery program, beyond the proposal to close relief camps and place men from the camps at work rehabilitating Canadian railroads.

REACTIONARY FORCES

"On the other hand," he said, "there is a very definite indication that reactionary forces will insist on balancing the Dominion budget by reducing public expenditures and increasing taxation.

"As a result of this attitude, both provincial and municipal governments in western Canada are going to find it increasingly difficult to secure financial assistance from Ottawa," Mr. McGeer said.

British Cruiser Is Launched Tuesday

LONDON, March 11.—The 9,000-ton cruiser Southampton was launched at Clyde Tuesday. The vessel is expected to attain a speed of 32 knots.

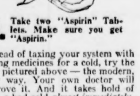

At Walker, Northumberland, two destroyers of the 1934 program, the Hero and the Hereward, were launched. They are expected to have a maximum speed of 35½ knots.

TROOPS BRING FORCED PEACE

MADRID, March 11—Army troops brought forced peace to Granada last night after a series of Extremist-Fascist clashes in which between seven and 20 were reported killed and 32 wounded.

The army forces were ordered to restore order without the formality of a martial law proclamation. The appearance of the armed guards brought a hasty end to sacking of business establishments.

2 Things to Do
TO EASE COLD INSTANTLY
Discomfort and Ache Go Almost Instantly This Way

1. Take two "Aspirin" Tablets. Make sure you get "Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

The "Aspirin" you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "Aspirin" Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice, Do not rinse mouth.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

CANADIAN NICKEL
in the Home

Converters in operation in the "Orford Process" department of the International Nickel Company's Smelter at Copper Cliff, Ontario. This process separates the Nickel from the Copper.

HIGH ON A TOWER, like a pigmy on a mountain top, stands a solitary figure. At his command a giant ladle swings upward from the furnace and pours its load of molten matte into the converter. Some sand is added. The converter rocks to an upright position. And then, as air is blown into the white-hot matte, intense heat is generated, though no heat is applied. And another step is completed in the many processes necessary to produce pure Nickel, Monel Metal, Copper and precious metals from the Sudbury ore.

Nickel to be alloyed with steel to make it stronger and tougher. Nickel to be added to iron to make it resist wear and corrosion. Nickel for your alarm clock, your car, your radio, and for a thousand other uses. And Monel Metal for your sink, your hot water tank, and that gleaming top now being featured on modern kitchen ranges.

Think of a silvery oven top, burner top and back panels on your new range. A top that resists rust and corrosion, that keeps its soft lustre for the life of the range.

The International Nickel Company's research department is constantly seeking new uses for Nickel and Monel Metal which will help to bring greater efficiency and beauty in home, office and factory. When you purchase articles containing Nickel you help to provide employment for Canadian labor, and a market at the Nickel mines for practically every kind of Canadian product, from electric motors to candles; from air compressors to boots and groceries; from sand pumps to lumber, timber and supplies.

STRICTLY "SOUND"

Mr. Manning says the budget is proof of the "sound" financial policy the Government intends to pursue. He thinks it "surprised" some people in the east to find how "sound" the Government's policy is.

There may not have been much surprise, but undoubtedly there was joy, in those circles in Montreal and Toronto where the ideas embodied in the budget were formulated. The "sound finance" headquarters whence the author of the budget draws his inspiration should ring with praise only equalled by the bitterness of the cabled comments of Major Douglas.

Higher taxes for Alberta, the undiminished bond-interest rates, the restriction and reduction of public buying power—these are the cardinal features of the budget, as they are the cardinal doctrines of the orthodox financier. They will be none the less welcome to him because they are proclaimed by a Government elected seven months ago to increase the buying power of every bona fide resident of the province.

The electors voted for sustenance dividends; they are to get new tax demands instead. What more could the most exacting "sound" economist ask for?

TIME FOR A NEW DEAL

France has thrown war garrisons into the "impregnable" line of fortifications along its eastern border; and secured promises that Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Yugoslavia and Rumania will help it "punish" Hitler's violation of the Locarno pact by compelling Germany to disarm "on the Rhineland."

Ordinarily this would be merely living up the troops for war. But French officials say war over the Rhineland affair is "impossible," though they do not say how else Germany is to be "forced" to evacuate. Berlin is no longer taking orders from Geneva.

Paris is said to feel that its position is weakened by an "apparent British desire to negotiate a new European peace treaty." Whether or not that is British's aim, it is apparent that a new peace treaty is one of the things Europe desperately needs. For the reason that the present one no longer carries authority or holds general support.

Germany was not the first nor is it the only country to disregard the settlement made at Versailles. The Allies have never kept their undertakings with Germany. That is the essential weakness of the French position in protesting against the reoccupation.

And the terms imposed on Germany were such as no country could keep, which the negotiators well knew when they framed them.

Considerations of justice aside, the treaty of Versailles was an impossible document clear out of under duress. It has kept alive the antagonisms it was supposed to allay, and eighteen years after Europe is an armed camp more really than it ever was before.

That cannot continue, or the universal distress will precipitate another war. A new treaty might be no better; but it could hardly be worse as a restorer and preserver of peaceful relations.

REDUCED BUYING POWER

The new provincial taxation, it is explained, will not really decrease the purchasing power of the public, but only redistribute it. The money will be pumped in by taxation and pumped out again by expenditure; that is all there is to it. The amount will remain the same.

The amount will remain the same; but the location will not be the same, personal or geographical. Of the money that is pumped from the pockets of the Alberta consumers, upwards of one-half will be pumped clear out of the province, in payment of bond-interest, which as yet no attempt has been made to reduce. The net result of the pumping process will be much less buying power inside the boundaries of Alberta.

And perhaps the taxpayer who finds his rates marked sharply up will be consoled to know the Government will not keep the money or destroy it; but will pay it out again—to somebody else, inside or outside the province. But so far as he is concerned that will be a very positive, definite, and substantial reduction of buying power, none the less agreeable because it is taken from him by those who promised to increase his supply.

Nor any the less adverse in its results upon his personal living and spending or upon conditions, because it is taken away at a time when incomes are abnormally depressed by conditions which are temporary; and when the object should be to leave buying power in the pockets of the public even though that involves further provincial borrowing against the return of better times.

The first mistake in compiling the budget was in assuming this is a time to try to "balance a budget." This cannot be done in these circumstances without working more hardship than any possible good that can be accomplished.

THE POWER DEADLOCK

Negotiations between the city and the Calgary Power Co. for a renewal agreement, an interchange agreement, or a stand-by agreement, have apparently come to naught. The Company has notified the city that its system will be disconnected from that of the city at midnight on April 11th.

After that, the house-holders and business interests of the city will be entirely dependent upon the city's steam plant, which plant Mr. Robertson, Mr. Christie and Mr. Cunningham have declared to be inadequate from the standpoint of ensuring a continuous supply of current.

In his recent report, Mr. Robertson recommended that an interchange agreement be made with the Company, rather than incur at this time the heavy capital expenditure necessary to bring the plant up to required and assured capacity. Council not having accepted any of the five proposals submitted by the Company, the latter serve notice that they will sever connection and withdraw from the field.

Council's counter-proposal was a request to know what the Company would offer in the way of a stand-by arrangement, under which the city could draw upon its system when necessary. Any such arrangement the Company say would be unprofitable to them—and of that they have to be the judge.

Considering the importance of an assured continuous supply of current, and the consequences should a breakdown occur after the Company's lines have been disconnected, it is to be hoped this does not mark the end of the negotiations, and that some workable arrangement may yet be made whereby the Company's surplus power will be available when required.

Council has at least found out what the Company will not do. It would be well, for the sake of safety, to re-examine what they are willing to do.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

The news from Europe makes the Italo-Ethiopian clash and the pursuit of $25 a month basic dividends but minor issues.

At any moment there may come a cannon-shot that will plunge France, Germany and Russia into the throes of war. After that happens, anything may happen. The previous World War will be trifling to the might of force, the numbers involved and the destructive power that will be loosed in a new World War.

J. S. Cowper

The train is set, leading from the Rhineland to the Polish frontier and then across Asia. It may easily set fire to the Pacific as it pursues its course round the world.

What the ultimate outcome may be no man living has wisdom or imagination to know.

France may swallow the bitter pill of seeing the Rhineland filled with troops threatening her border and acting to avenge the defeat of 1918. Hitler having torn up the treaty, France more likely than not, will conclude that war can never be avoided and that it is better to anticipate the clash than wait till the odds are heavier. If Hitler's swoop on the Rhineland was only intended as a bluff to frighten France out of her new alliance with Russia, it is a bluff that exceeded its purpose.

German spokesmen galore—the most recent at our doors being the captain of the German war vessel Emden, now in the Pacific on a world cruise—have publicly asserted that Germany will not stop until she gets return of her lost colonies. As the German colonies housed only 24,000 Germans, the plea that they are essential for her overflowing population and trade is not fortified by figures. Their return is more a matter of German pride than of necessity. Nor is there any assurance that Germany would be satisfied with the return of her colonies. She might want indemnities then. The continual pressure of Germany on France and the militarization of the Rhineland in defiance of treaty agreement and official assurance will probably make France turn reluctantly to war once more. If she does, it will be with a Russian ally, many times more valuable than Russia of 1914.

What nation will be able to remain outside the international dog-fight that will ensue?

Italy, angered by league sanctions may throw her lot in with Germany. Weakened as she is by her African adventure, she will be attacked by the Little Alliance—Jugoslavia, Czecksolovakia and Rumania—aided by Greece and Turkey.

Because Soviet Russia is a stronger power in Asia than was Czarist Russia, and is at loggerheads with Japan over Japanese aggression in Manchukuo, a war involving Russia and Germany is sure to be followed by war on the Russo-Manchukuo border between Japan and Russia.

A map showing the political partitioning of China is an interesting study. On the Pacific Coast Korea and Formosa have gone to Japan, and the Indo-China peninsula to France. There is a virtually autonomous strip on the coast north of Hong Kong. The large Hopeh-Shantung-Kiangsu area was neutralized last year. Outside of these areas, and of Manchukuo which was made a Japanese protectorate in 1931-2, there are constant clashes of interest.

Outer Mongolia, which extends inland from the Manchukuo border and south of the Russian border is an independent Soviet republic. To the south of it lies Inner Mongolia, which Japan is now seeking.

Singkiang province (Eastern Turkestan), north of Tibet is under Russian Soviet influence. Several large areas in the centre of China are grouped under Soviet Chinese governments.

While General Chang Kai Shek, supporting Premier Wang Ching-wei has been giving battle to the Chinese Communists, both forces are likely to unite against Japan in the event of a Russo-Japanese war in Asia.

What would be the part of Britain and United States in such a world cataclysm?

United States would aim to preserve neutrality. Her composite population, her aloofness and her powerful business sense have clothed her with a tradition for keeping outside foreign embroilments. She might find it difficult to supply munitions through neutrals because there would be few neutrals. Always there would be the menace of Japanese threats against United States.

Britain with her widespread interests and her position as a League member would find it impossible to stay long on the side-lines. She is committed under the Locarno Pact to preserve the existing frontiers of France. The withdrawal of Germany from the Pact is not likely to affect British fidelity to the given pledge.

In such a world war Canada would not be able to stay out. The Empire would only have to sink a few Canadian ships on the Pacific or Shell Victoria or Vancouver and the reality of Canada's status as a British Kingdom would become obvious.

Where would it end? No one now playing with the matches near the powder barrel has the slightest knowledge.

It may end in great spread of Communism all over the world.

It may end with half the manhood of the globe goose-stepping and shouting "Heil" to some new dictators.

It may end with the total crushing of the aggressor nation.

It may end as Wells suggests, in a long-drawn stalemate, the destruction of civilization, the coming of great plagues from stinking battlefields and a handful of survivors starting a new life like a flower on a dung-heap.

It may end with the downfall of all political systems based on scarcity and hand-labor, and the working out of a Technocratic age of leisure.

Or it may just mark a breathing spell for another and bigger World War.

Dates

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

The date tree is unusual in that the male and female flowers grow on separate trees. Growers commonly plant one male date tree for about one acre of female date trees and inasmuch as the male trees can bear no fruit, about 90 per cent of them are destroyed.

Dr. F. McCoy

The history of date growing is older than the history of civilization, and we find it cultured both as to culture and methods of serving in the clay tablets of ancient Assyria. It is almost the national industry of the Arabs. The Arabs have long since held the date in great esteem, as it is a very satisfying food, due to the large amount of sugar it contains, and its concentrated food value is important to those who must cross dreary wastes of desert where any food that is carried along must not spoil readily.

Dates are one of the few foods which can be grown in the desert regions of the world where there are long sunny days with a high temperature and dry air. One date tree may provide as much as a hundred pounds of fruit per year. Even one bunch of dates sometimes weighs as much as thirty pounds.

The Persian gulf is an important date centre, although the date crop from Coachella Valley in California is now becoming famous for an excellent type of date. About nine-tenths of the imported dates are brought in from Smyrna, Turkey and Arabia, where they are gathered in bunches by a whole line of boys swarming right up the tree trunks, clear from the ground to the fruit. One boy cuts the fruit and hands it down to the others. The dates are usually packed by women, then loaded on camels and carried across the desert.

The Deglet Noor is held to be one of the choicest of the many hundreds of known varieties. It is a beautifully colored, transparent amber. This type of dates grows in the hottest sections of the Sahara Desert. Fard dates are usually smaller and are of a dark brown color. Other dates vary in size and consistency. Some are hard like bread and taste like dried cake. Others are so soft and mushy that they can not be shipped to market. Dates are frequently classified according to whether they are "dry" or "wet," but this classification does not always hold good since a "wet" date may be made dry by exposing it to dry air at a high temperature. It is said that Orientals sometimes classify them as to whether they are "hot" or "cold" according to whether they cause a burning sensation in the stomach if used as a main article of diet for some time. If the date makes the stomach "burn" they class it as a "hot" variety.

Dates vary in composition. However, they are chiefly composed of sugar, water and cellulose. They contain between 50 per cent and 70 per cent of sugar and it is this large amount of sugar which makes them so high in food value.

A diet of dates is lacking in protein and the Arabs make up for this deficiency by using milk with the dates as the milk supplies the protein which is lacking. Certainly, a diet of dates and milk will sustain for many months. This combination is now coming into use for the luncheon meal. Try using one pint of milk with ten or twelve dates for luncheon and I am sure you will enjoy the change. A delicious date salad may be made by placing cottage cheese on lettuce and then covering the cottage cheese with pitted, cleaned dates.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—L. D. A. writes: "I have suffered for about six years with the annoying trouble known as hemorrhoids. As I do not know the first thing about the disease, I thought I would ask you for information."

ANSWER—The information you request regarding hemorrhoids is entirely too long to be given in this short space. I advise that you write again, sending your full name and address in order that two articles on hemorrhoids may be forwarded to you. These articles are ready for anyone who desires them. I request that, with your inquiry, you send ten cents to help pay the cost of preparation and mailing. Also, please enclose one large, self-addressed envelope. Certainly, a hemorrhoid is an annoying trouble and the sufferer is put to much inconvenience caused the patient are all out of proportion to the size of the swollen and painful vein. Frequently, several of these enlarged veins form simultaneously and in addition to the local discomfort, the patient may develop marked symptoms of nervousness. However, treatment is usually entirely satisfactory and in most cases, the patient can be entirely relieved.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.

After Heine

Rain on the face of the sea,
Rain on the sodden land,
And the window-pane is blurred with rain
As I watch it, pen in hand.

Mist on the face of the sea,
Mist on the sodden land,
Filling the vales as daylight fails,
And blotting the desolate sand.

Voices from out of the mist,
Calling to one another:
"Hath love an end, thou more than friend,
Thou dearer than ever brother?

Voices from out of the mist,
Calling and passing away;
But I cannot speak, for my voice is weak,
And . . . this is the end of my lay.

SIDE GLANCES—By George Clark

"I was just trying out my new car. Could you tell me how fast I was going?"

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1865 a division took place in the legislative assembly of the Province of Canada which changed the destiny of British America. Debate upon a motion by John A. Macdonald to ratify the conclusions arrived at at the Quebec conference had been debated from February 6. Many points of view had been developed; some of the French Roman Catholic members were apprehensive; some of the members from the eastern townships were afraid that the protection of the minority there might be weakened; some Upper Canada men predicted French domination, while others argued that so great a change should not be ventured until the electors had been consulted in a general election.

The division came sooner than expected, for many members did not speak who had intended to do so. It is recorded that the division was a silent one. At its close the clerk of the house, W. B. Lindsay (afterwards the first clerk of the House of Commons of the Dominion) read the figures:

Yeas, 91; nays, 33.

Only six members did not vote; three were sick; the others had not reached Quebec in time for the vote. The motion for an address to the Queen asking passage of a union act was then sent to the legislative council, which debated it briefly and on March 16 gave its assent to the address: Contents, 45; non-contents, 15. Two days later the parliament was prorogued, and early in April John A. Macdonald, George Brown, G. E. Cartier and A. T. Galt left for England to lay the address before the British government. It was not until February 7, 1867, that the confederation bill was introduced in the House of Lords. It was passed by the House of Commons on March 8 and was given the royal assent on March 29. So came the British North America Act. Who knows but that March, 1937, 70 years later, may see the Imperial parliament give Canada consent to amend that constitution?

The Mail Bag

SUPER SALESMAN

Editor Bulletin: Major Douglas should receive a gold medal from the power interests as super Salesmen of North America. He missed his vocation when he took up engineering for, with a little practice he could sell snowballs to the Eskimos. This is amply demonstrated by his ability to sell "hot air" to politicians, and to collect.

As for the voters of Alberta they should each receive the emblem of "Beaten Dunkeld." Since any unbiased umpire must award them the world's "Sucker" championship.

The voters have no right to kick at the major's actions. Through their chosen representatives they agreed to give the major the equivalent of a year's income for 39 average Alberta families. In return the major agreed to give them what they got—which is exactly nothing.

What prevents Alberta from being flooded with high-power legislation is difficult to understand. They ought to be able to unload on the Alberta public all the fake bond issues they can locate as well as a few first mortgages on the Parliament buildings and the High Level Bridge, to say nothing of a few "gold" bricks. "Spanish Prisoners" and "Rich Uncles from Australia." Perhaps the reluctance to do this is due to the belief that the tax collectors and the gallant major have left only the bare pickings.

The Alberta voters can certainly take it. They seem still eager to buy "abstract emptiness" in large quantities in return for all the physical wealth they have the use of and for mortgages on their children, grand children and the tenth and twelfth generations. Apparently refuse, however, any contact with the unpleasurable face and realities of life.

No doubt these same voters will in time learn the inevitable truth, that "sucker-gamblers" who want to get rich quick, without taking the trouble to learn the rules of the game they are playing have not as much chance as the oft-quoted "touch-paper dog."

RE SUNDAY SPORTS

Editor Bulletin: It beats all what a lot of very often Biblical students there are in and around Edmonton. Let me give them a few points which may put a damper on a lot of their letter writing.

First, the Sunday is not the Sabbath.

Go! said: The seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. St. Paul says that is nonsense, and the Catechism used in the R. C. church proves conclusively that the R. C. church changed the day. So that is that.

Next: Why worry about Sunday sports, as some say, it is breaking the Sabbath, when the Christian church deliberately and intentionally breaks every other law of God, and teaches that Christ annulled these laws. Let me give just an instance. Anyone who wants a full list may have it by applying to the writer.

God said there are a score of different kinds of flesh that are poisonous to men when taken as food. St. Paul says "I know and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus Christ" that statement is untrue. Then we have some thing about God's "Everlasting Covenant," and God's marriage law.

The prophets wrote the words of the Creator. The so-called apostles of Jesus wrote, and the clergy, this day, quote the words of a devil to prove their point. Why worry about Sunday sports? Why not apply to the devil for a little more information as to how we should regard the laws of God? I am sure the sport fans would get the very information they are looking for.

Let me say to those honest souls, who are doing what they can to enlighten humanity; just save your wind and the printer's ink, till the threatened blow is struck in Europe, and in the meantime read carefully the 20th chapter of the prophesy of Ezekiel, and the 20th chapter of Jeremiah's prophesy and you will not worry any more about Sunday sports. You will have something vastly more important to think about.

Thanks for the "Mail Bag."

ENFORCEMENT OF GAME ACT DRAWS FIRE

Raising of Bounty on Wolves in North Country is Advocated

Subjecting enforcement of the Game Act in the north to severe criticism and advocating raising of the bounty on wolves as a method of exterminating the animals, which were now constituting a serious situation in the north, L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, during discussion of the estimates in the legislature on Tuesday, declared that not only were wild and domestic game being menaced, but homes were threatened.

Coupled with Mr. Giroux's plea for a higher wolf bounty, was the plea by John J. Bowlen, Liberal house leader, for stoppage of destruction of antelope by sportsmen hunters and the more rigid enforcement of game regulations in the south.

R.C.M.P. ATTACKED

Mr. Bowlen also attacked the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, charging that when he drew a specific case of wilful destruction of antelope to the attention of the authorities he was informed they were not interested.

Today, declared Mr. Bowlen, a R.C.M.P. officer was measured by the volume of his riports and not by the service he rendered to his country.

Mr. Giroux opened up his discussion on the wolf situation when the house, sitting in committee of the whole, reached an appropriation in the estimates of $11,450 for the game branch.

Timber wolves, he said, were inflicting serious damage to game. Wolves were coming as far south as the Athabasca river.

CHILDREN IN DANGER

"Even children are in danger," he said. "I think that the government should increase the bounty on wolves. They are now attacking both game and domestic animals. If we are going to preserve our game we have got to get rid of the wolves. We must do something quick. He contended that the $5 bounty was no good. The wolves were coming down from the hills because they are hungry.

"If the game commissioner is definitely dismissed, I hope that the minister will prisonally supervise every appointment," he said.

Later, Mr. Giroux attacked the "antiquated system of taxation of pelts." He said the same tax was paid on inferior skins as on the best grade. They should be taxed according to their value. The trapper, he said, was the one who should be protected.

He urged that what was needed in this province was a new game act, a new fur tax and new game guardians.

The R.C.M.P., he said, had too much to do to look after the game guardians' work. He knew of one constable who had developed tuberculosis as a result of his game guardian's work.

MIGHT BE CHEAPER

Hon. W. N. Chant, minister of agriculture stated that it was a question whether it would be wise to increase the bounty. It was doubtful if government action would eliminate the wolves and it might be cheaper to move harassed settlers than exterminate the wolves.

W. J. Lampley, S.C., Peace River, said that the wolf was nothing but a timber wolf. As the government took the hide, a $5 bounty was no good. The bounty should be $10 or $15.

E. P. Foster, S.C., Didsbury, declared the wolf hide was not valuable in any case.

Hon. Mr. Chant said that it was not necessary to produce the whole hide in order to get the bounty and $5 on a pelt in these days was not too bad.

J. H. Unwin, S.C., Edson, said that if the wolves were as thick as Mr. Giroux intimated, a man could go north and shoot enough wolves to make a living.

The minister thought the most effective way of dealing with the situation was to follow the wolves to their dens and destroy the cubs.

OUTLIVED USEFULNESS

Rev. Roy Taylor, S.C., Pincher Creek, wondered if the volunteer game guardians had not outlived their usefulness and was anxious to see game preserved. He thought this could be best done by paying men to look after the animals.

W. E. Hayes, S.C., Stony Plain, thought regulations should be enforced to make hunters use .303 or more powerful in shooting.

Mr. Bowlen thought it was a crime to shoot antelope in southern Alberta to the extent that had been done in the last autumn.

Many city people made a Roman Holiday out of slaughtering the antelope many of which were just wounded and left to die on the bald prairies.

William Masson, S.C., Wainwright thought it should be made compulsory that only males could be shot.

Hon. Mr. Hugill asked if Mr. Bowlen had personal knowledge of conditions of which he spoke and the Liberal leader replied he did. Asked why he did not report them Mr. Bowlen said he had reported and was informed the police had no time for such matters. He then made his remarks about measuring efficiency of a policeman by the volume of his reports.

STRONG SUPPORT

W. E. Cain, S.C., Bow Valley, gave strong support to Mr. Bowlen. Too much shooting of antelope from cars had taken place. He recalled seeing five antelope in one field and only one calf left, which had been left to die. Many of these animals had been so shot that there was no meat between skin and bone.

Mrs. Edith Rogers, S.C., Ponoka, thought it was time to review the whole Game Act, sentiments echoed by N. R. James, S.C., Acadia.

The appropriation was stood over for further consideration.

A Japanese Dictator In The Shadows

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Somewhere behind the scenes in Japan is a very interested Japanese citizen, watching the progress of events, and waiting his cue to take the centre of the stage.

Time is the problem; should he appear too soon he will be exterminated before he can seize power; should he wait a moment too long the opportunity will have passed, and power will be beyond his grasp.

The revolution in Japan cannot be explained by spontaneous combustion; somebody planned it with the idea of becoming dictator of Japan. This addition to membership in the dictators' union, at present controlled by Messrs. Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini, will not make for world peace.

Russia has kept her people quiet by carrying on great works of internal development; Germany has kept her people busy in technical pursuits; Mussolini has his Ethiopian campaign to keep the flags flying.

A Japanese dictator would have to keep going in China and Manchuria. The result of his efforts would be determined by the efficiency of the Russian bombing planes. A few thousand Russian fire bombs dropped on the primitive Japanese cities would settle once and for all the control of northeastern Asia.

PROSPECTORS IN LAST MEET THIS SEASON

Col. J. K. Cornwall Lauds Aviation in Mineral Development

The gentlemen who, with pick, shovel and dynamite, hope to find fame and fortune in the northlands, celebrated at the Shasta Cafe Tuesday night for the last time this season.

This is the most important organization in Edmonton today regarding the future success of the north," said Col. J. K. Cornwall, who sounded the keynote in a ringing speech before the Edmonton and Northwest Prospectors' Association.

"The success that will come out of a meeting of this character is going to be due to the efforts of the prospectors."

Col. Cornwall concluded with the opinion that much of the past success of the northern gold fields was due in a large measure to the efforts of the aviation companies.

FORM BRANCHES

While the prospectors were still thundering approval the president suggested that branches of the society will be formed at Goldfields and other mining points this season so the headquarters will be stationed in the offices of the Chamber of Mines.

Entertainers were: Pipe Major Roberts, "Gerry" Murphy, Howard Stutchbury, Ralph Cooper and Chris. Bird.

Gathered together in one corner of the room were five veterans of the Great War. They were also "Wop" May, "Ollie" Inkster, Ray Ross, Ray McPhie, and Ralph Maybank. May, Ross and McPhie joined the air force later in the war while Inkster joined the Royal Engineers.

The Country Doctor

CHAPTER XV

THE two doctors and Nurse Kennedy were all rather silent as they drove back to Moosetown from the Wyatt place. None cared to speculate on what the message from the governor-general might contain. Good news, perhaps? There had been so much news from Montreal in the past that was not good.

The car turned into the driveway beside the doctor's modest little house, and, silent still, all three went into the study. Only Dr. Paul and the nurse waited while Dr. John crashed the receiver of the phone and called the telegraph office.

"Hello, Jerry," they heard the doctor's voice. "Dr. Luke. You've got a message for me. I understand, Montreal, yes—oh, yes, I get it!"

They waited an anxious minute while Jerry was reading the message over the phone.

Then they heard an emphatic "Gosh!" and a whoop of delight from the country doctor. "Read it again, Jerry," he said. Again the short silence. "All right, Jerry. Thanks very much."

Dr. John Luke appeared in the door of the study. He had taken off his glasses and was polishing the lenses. Both guests looked up, unspeaking.

"It's the hospital" began Dr. John slowly. "We're—we're going to get it." His voice sounded strained and unreal. "I can't believe it's true—after all these years—the hospital—we're going to get it. Dreams for the years to come—and now it's come true!"

Eventful days followed. The quintuplets bloomed into five lively little girls, each cut out their first birthday in excellent and glowing health. Gaining in weight almost daily, they cut their first teeth, learned to crawl, creep, drink, eat, bang each other over the head with toys and laugh merrily over all these things. In all Canada, in all the world you could find no sort of five happier, healthier, happier little girls.

Dr. Luke was in his element. Within the limits of what he could give him he prescribed at the Wyatt home, he romped and played with "his little angels" during daily visits. A permanent nurse was secured to stay with them. They were happy days.

The only rival for the doctor's affections was the hospital. Architects, contractors, city officials came to Mooseltown, and all conferred earnestly and respectfully with Dr. Luke. Eagerly the country doctor followed every blueprint, every tier of brick, every rising timber that reassured him daily that his dream was actually coming true before his eyes. A hospital that would provide for the community needs, with a special wing for the Dionne quintuplet girls! The doctor was busier than ever he had been in his life, and happier, too.

Mary MacKenzie called often at the little house. There were those special letters from Montreal which came often, addressed to Dr. Luke, but with a curious marking in the corner. Somehow Dr. Luke never opened them, but left them on the corner of the table where Mary Mac could find them. Always, after she had read them, she seemed much happier than she had been before. And somehow, soon after that, the conversation always turned to Tony Luke. Tony had finished anatomy. Tony had a new microscope. Tony thought such-and-such was a good book to read. Tony was doing well on the class soccer team. Tony was nearly ready to take his degree. Tony—

Dr. Luke smiled. He knew what was going on, and he knew also that MacKenzie's feud against Tony had been softened in exact proportion to the interest the company had taken in the quintuplets. But he said nothing of that to Mary. "She'll find all that in good time," he mused to himself, and let her talk on.

The hospital rose rapidly and soon neared completion. All the things which had been only a dream for so long materialized before the excited eyes of Dr. Luke. The operating-room, the isolation ward, the living quarters, and out-patient room, all complete. Not the Currow standard, of course, but ideal for so isolated a community as that about Mooseltown. And last but not least, of course, the little wing that was to be devoted, for the present at least, to the quintuplets.

The great day came at last—the day for dedication of the hospital. All the rooms at the North Bay hotel had been reserved for visiting dignitaries—were not the Dominion health authorities, the welfare director, the governor-general himself, going to be present? To say nothing of a host of the most distinguished physicians connected with medical practice in the north country?

Doctor Luke went early to the hospital. He had prepared for the occasion by avoiding himself with a brand new suit. Long before the crowd was to gather in front of the hospital for the dedication ceremonies, Dr. Luke was in the nursery.

Nurse Andrews, the resident guardian of the quintuplets' welfare, had made the little girls in fresh new frocks as the doctor quietly entered. Beaming at the bright, bubbling behavior of the little girls, the doctor surveyed his own freshly-pressed and immaculate clothes.

Nurse Andrews, so absorbed in the children as to be oblivious of the doctor's sartorial splendor, replied ecstatically, with a grateful glance at the hospital. "I think it's the most beautiful thing I've ever seen!"

Nurse Andrews turned on her with a quick pail.

"Oh, you..look grand!" she said. "But I meant the babies' bathrooms. All done in that lovely colored tile. And just think! Three bathtubs!"

"Only three? Not enough," said the doctor with a humorous twinkle. "Well wash five!" He strolled amiably about the room, chucking a baby chin here, adjusting a ribbon there, straightening a dress, laughing and chuckling with the rollicking babies.

"Hadn't you better go outside?" Nurse Andrews suggested. "You can't stay in here all afternoon with the babies."

"Rather stay with the girls," chuckled the doctor, beginning an impromptu game of pat-a-cake with one of the delighted babies. He was oblivious of a ripple of applause from outside the hospital.

The dedication program was already under way. Sir Basil Bayford was concluding a bumbling speech: "Here our five blessed damosels will make their bows." But this hospital is for all of you—and I take pleasure in dedicating it to the people of the north country. I thank you!"

Polite applause did not drown out the steady hum of an airplane motor overhead. To two people in the crowd, it at least, it was significant.

Mary MacKenzie, with an almost prayerful glance at the sky, began to edge her way out of the crowd. She knew who it was that was planning to fly into Mooseltown that day. Tony! So happy! You've come for me at last!

But another heard the plane's motor also. It was Constable Jim Ogden. Automatically removing a frayed and dirty warrant from his breast pocket, he too edged his way through the crowd. Before he could start for the nearby open field, however, he felt a heavy hand on his shoulder. It was MacKenzie.

"Don't be a fool, man!" the manager hissed. "Give me that warrant!" Automatically Ogden extended the frayed paper. MacKenzie seized it from him, tore it in four pieces, which fluttered to the ground. Ogden, with a sigh of relief, edged back into the crowd.

Sir Basil's speech concluded, the proceedings came to an embarrassed halt. "Where's Dr. Luke?" asked Sir Basil nervously, behind his hand. An aide promptly tiptoed into the hospital.

The nursery he found what he sought. On the floor, surrounded by a circle of crisp, pretty little girls, was Dr. Luke. He was winding a music box for the delectation of the quintuplets. "Congratulations had been bringing gleeful shrieks from the babies.

Dr. Luke, rose, smoothed his ruffled hair. "All poppycock," he fussed, as he strode toward the door.

"We're waiting! The governor-general is waiting!" whispered Sir Basil as Dr. Luke came through the door.

"Mustn't keep the governor-general waiting, eh?" winked Dr. Luke with just a touch of malice. There was a solid sound of cheers and applause as the crowd saw him.

The governor-general was stretching out a hand.

"I knew we would meet again some day, Dr. Luke," he said. "This is a pleasure. Now we met in Montreal at the medical banquet you've become quite a famous man."

The governor-general gestured toward the crowd, which continued to applaud.

"This must be a source of some satisfaction to you," he commented. They are applauding you, rejoicing in your triumph."

"They've really come for a squint at the little girls," deprecated Dr. Luke modestly.

The governor-general laughed. "I don't mind admitting that I'd like a squint at them myself," he admitted. "But I have also come as a representative of our Sovereign."

The doctor was startled. "Yes —" he began.

The governor-general cleared his throat, and turned half toward the crowd, half to Dr. Luke.

"You have achieved a spectacular medical record, Doctor. But what is more greater, is your record of lifetime service to the people of this province. In recognition of this loyal, unselfish, useful service, I have the honor to bestow upon you, on behalf of His Royal Highness, our Gracious King, the Order of the British Empire."

The governor-general stepped forward then, and deftly pinned the decoration on the lapel of the doctor's coat.

Dr. Luke looked down at the decoration on his coat. Then the lenses of his glasses misted just a little. He swallowed visibly. Slowly he raised his head, and words came.

"I don't know what to say," he fumbled. "I can—only accept this great honor in the name of all country doctors. I have done nothing more than what they are all done, what they are doing every day.

"All my life I have worked and hoped for a hospital for the north country. And when it seemed most hopeless, these blessed babies were born. Ever since their birth, I have felt as if some great Goodness stood behind my shoulder.

"Sometimes it has been hard to believe that the birth of the quintuplets was anything but a medical fairy story . . ."

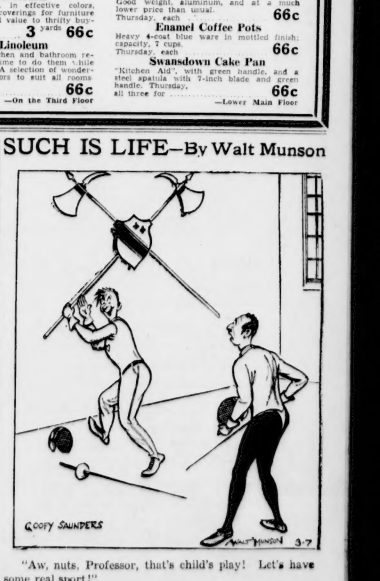

The doctor turned to the nursery window. Five bright, rosy, smiling faces smiled out at him. Tiny fingers waggled a greeting.

"But I have only to look about me, to look into those sweet little faces, to see that it has all come true."

The country doctor turned slowly and walked through the door into the nursery.

Focus Of I.O.D.E. Service Is Municipal Chapter, By Which $10,000 Expended

MARKING completion of a quarter century of useful work on behalf of the under privileged and the unfriended, representatives of the 14 chapters comprising the Municipal I.O.D.E. formed their plans for the future at a tea planned for 1926 at their largely attended annual meeting in the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday evening. Activities will again be led by Mrs. W. S. Gray, who was named regent.

Particularly encouraging is the evidence of greater interest on the part of the younger women, among whom four new chapters, the Kathleen Parlow, the Lady Alice Scott, the Earl of St. Andrews and the Prince Edward, Earl of Kent, have been formed and whose membership boasts an increase of 75.

"To you we hand the torch . . . or at least invite you to share its burden . . ." seemed to be the unspoken message conveyed in a most impressive ceremony, at which Mrs. T. Winslow Hamilton, on behalf of Westward Ho!, the oldest chapter west of the Great Lakes, presented a flag to members of the newest chapter, the Earl of Kent.

MRS. GRAY HEADS I.O.D.E. IN EDMONTON

Headed by Mrs. W. S. Gray, of Fort Augustus Chapter, as regent of Municipal chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, officers elected at the annual meeting in the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday evening include Mrs. T. Winslow Hamilton, Westward Ho!, first vice-regent; Mrs. W. Clarence Richards, Elizabeth Mowat, second vice regent, Mrs. W. C. Ford, Fort Edmonton, secretary; Mrs. Hugh Black, Elizabeth Mowat, treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Ross, Earl of St. Andrews, educational secretary; Mrs. A. T. Livingstone, Elizabeth Mowat, Echoes secretary; Miss Florence Lendrum, Lieut.-Colonel Barker's Standard Bearer; Mrs. H. E. Curry, Fort Edmonton, assistant secretary, and Mrs. John Knott, organizing secretary.

Conveners are Miss Melvor, Fort Augustus, immigration; Mrs. H. Kinnear, Fort Edmonton, blind; Mrs. George Goodall, Colonel French, service and ex-servicemen; Mrs. G. Edgar Knechtel, Fort Edmonton, child welfare; Miss Florence Cottingham, Fort Augustus, films; Mrs. Roger Roscoe, Countess of Bessborough, distinguished visitors.

Great pleasure was expressed at the presence in the meeting of Mrs. L. B. Yule, past municipal regent, whose resignation was accepted with deep regret last year when she left Edmonton to make her home in Weyerville.

MRS. GRAY IS AGAIN REGENT

Mrs. W. S. Gray, by acclamation, will continue in office as municipal regent, and she takes up her duties for her splendid leadership, received from the members a beautiful bouquet of deep pink carnations and roses. Pretty spring bouquets were also received by Mrs. W. C. Kemp, secretary; Mrs. Hugh Black, treasurer, and the four conveners, Mrs. George Goodall, service and ex-servicemen; Mrs. Hugh Black, J. Johnston, immigration and assimilation; Mrs. H. Kinnear, blind, and Mrs. A. T. Livingstone, child welfare. Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. M. J. Hilton made the presentations.

A balance of $407 over and above expenditures of more than $10,000 is the encouraging condition of finances as revealed by the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Black.

Mrs. H. C. Dalgleish's statement concerning "Echoes" showed that circulation of the official magazine is more than 300, among Edmonton women, and that all Edmonton Chapters are 100 per cent subscribers.

Outstanding has been the effort among the blind, in which interest $2,301, an increase of $500, was realized this year from the sale of baskets and from a campaign including tagging, displays at the University, in the Hudson's Bay Company store, in all Safeway stores, and at a booth in the exhibition grounds during fair week. Parties, eight of which were held in their honor during the year, have now become an institution. Members also entertained at a garden party in Victoria Park. They paid 352 visits to homes and 61 to hospitals. More than 620 articles were made by the blind for sale at the various bazaars and markets. Various thoughtful little purchases, and the many ear rides and those artificial flowers carried, have greatly contributed to the happiness of these people.

SERVE VETERANS

Splendid work, too, has been done among the soldiers, for when an emergency fund has been established, and $156 already contributed. Magazines, four subscriptions a month, have been sent to 150 families of ex-servicemen in rural districts. Members raised $68 in a tag day for the soldiers and $255 when they assisted the Canadian Legion on Poppy Day.

Semi-weekly visits have been paid to the soldier patients at the Red Cross Hall and a party given in each month. A dozen dressing gowns for their use were purchased. The Colonel French campaign collected $100 for an artificial leg for a soldier. The Westward Ho! contributed $525 to the Connaught fund. Mrs. George Goodall presented the report.

In the educational field a fund has been inaugurated to meet the large demand for pencils and scribblers and during the year large numbers of new and used books have been sent to rural districts, especially in the north. Nineteen libraries, 7 pictures and 6 flags have been sent out to country schools and 326 calendars distributed. Seven pictures in commemoration of the Jubilee celebrations of His Late Majesty, King George V. were awarded to Victoria and Strathcona High Schools.

By means of the radio, lectures, and papers, members have studied this year the aims and works of the order, the geography of Canada, Red River Settlers, Ethiopia and other subjects of interest. They were also afforded an opportunity to meet Mrs. C. T. Woodside, provincial educational convener, and to hear her speak about that branch of the work of the order. Mrs. Frank Jones offered the resume.

NEW CANADIANS ARE WELCOMED

Mrs. T. J. Johnston, convener of the Immigration and Assimilation committee spoke of the 4th annual ceremony of welcome for New Canadians, outdoor events attended by Mrs. R. C. Marshall, M.B.E., the Provincial Regent, His Worship Mayor Joseph A. Clarke and other distinguished guests. More than 400 people were present. Used books have been collected and $180 donated to the Assimilation fund.

Largest project which has come under the jurisdiction of the Child and Family Welfare committee, stated Mrs. A. O. Johns, convener, was a summer camp conducted for the months of July and August at South Cooking Lake, where 61 children enjoyed a holiday of two weeks each, at a total cost of $1,000.

Classes at the "Y" commenced in October and will continue until Easter. Following two hours of gymnasium work and swimming each Saturday, refreshments are served to the children.

Other conveners heard from were Miss Florence Cottingham, British films; Mrs. Roger Roscoe, Distinguished Visitors and Mrs. C. L. Morton, Standard Bearer.

Mrs. Stoney and Mrs. Whiteley will receive at the St. Patrick's tea arranged by the W. A. of St. Mark's to be held in the parish hall on Thursday afternoon between the hours of three o'clock and four. Mrs. Vernal will assist with the members of the Junior W.A.

Eton Jacket For Dinner

A practical dinner suit by Dilkusha of reversible navy satin for the long skirt and white crepe for blouse and red crushed girdle. The Eton jacket is in white felt.

Easter Week Is Chosen For Art Exhibition

Easter week, with its many delightful entertainments, includes the annual exhibition of the Edmonton Art Club, in the Corona hotel. Paintings by artists of Edmonton whose work is recognized widely throughout Canada will be hung, and on annual night of the exhibit offers unusual interest, for many acquainted with the pictures and those artists are particularly zealous to see new work and to observe the progress which distinguishes this exhibit yearly. Mr. H. W. Hedley has been made manager of the exhibition.

Plans were discussed by the Club when Mrs. W. B. Milne entertained the members at the Cottage Tea Room recently. Critics for the evening were Mr. Hedley and Mr. J. Gordon Scallan. Members present included Mrs. A. Armstrong, Mrs. P. J. Fleming, Mrs. A. Card, Mrs. S. Raulpson, Mene, E. Mercier, Mrs. O. J. Walker, Mrs. P. Mortimer, Mrs. C. B. Willis, Miss B. Mercier, Miss H. V. Foster, Miss E. Wright, Miss E. Coulchanik, Mr. H. Kingsmill, Mr. W. B. Milne, Mr. R. Hedley, Mrs. F. H. Norbury, Mr. G. Brown, Mr. R. Campbell, Mr. A. J. Gaudet, Mr. Webber, Mr. G. Sinclair and Dr. H. E. Bulyea.

CITIZENSHIP TALK IS GIVEN BY MRS. E. L. HILL

Mrs. E. L. Hill addressed Central W.C.T.U. on Monday afternoon in Knox-Dougall church on the subject of Citizenship. In clear and forceful manner Mrs. Hill outlined the long struggle for even manhood suffrage and told of the many efforts that had to be made before that right was granted to all adult males in England only a little over fifty years ago.

The late Queen Victoria was strenuously opposed to the franchise for women and it was not until after her death that really earnest efforts were made by British women to obtain their right of franchise, and not until after the Great War that this right was recognized either in England or Canada. Only very recently, as all Albertans well know, did women receive the full recognition of being "persons" in the same sense as are men.

Mrs. Hill read an extract from one of Elizabeth Browning's poems in which she told of the very shallow ideas prevailing concerning women's intelligence in the time in which she lived. Considered sufficient was a smattering of this and that, also lines relating to marriage, piety, science, a little Algebra, a few little accomplishments along the line of music and art, but never by any chance anything that might challenge her deeper intelligence.

It was not until 1884 that the University of Toronto allowed women students to enter its sacred precincts, and in 1895 women took the degree of B.A. because they had studied either at home or under tutors. Even yet the speaker declared, women are not fully recognized in their mental capabilities, and should strive for a high standard of citizenship that should be their full aim at consideration for all peoples.

Arrangements have been made for an open meeting on Thursday afternoon, March 19, when the speaker School room of First Baptist church. Miss Grace Pettullo will be the guest speaker. The new Play Contest being sponsored by Alberta Provincial W.C.T.U. was also explained. Mrs. Williams was the soloist of the afternoon.

Many Attend Hospital Aid Bridge Party

Quite the most pleasant way of combining business and pleasure was the annual bridge party in aid of hospital facilities, at which members of the Alexandra Hospital Women's Association entertained in the Nurses' Home on Monday evening. At tiny tables attractistically placed about the large room, were seated well over 200 guests.

Receiving at the affair, whose splendid service is to augment the funds of the hospital and hence to help countless people back to health, were Miss Munroe, Mrs. A. F. Anderson and Mrs. E. J. Fuller.

Prizes for contract bridge were awarded to Mrs. C. McLaughlin, Mrs S. A. Gilmans and Mrs. J. MacDonald; for auction bridge awards were made to Mrs. F. MacKenzie and Mrs. T. Blaine.

Among the guests were: Mrs. W. A. Alkinson, Miss B. J. Waterman, Mrs. C. Mills, Mrs. Byron Morrison, Mrs. I. MacDonald, Mrs. D. McCuaig, Mrs. H. H. Ross, Mrs. Arthur J. Whitcomb, Mrs. Chas. the social round . . . .

FOUR o'clock moon stood high in the sky, and listened to the speaking silences of night. Light as white as the day poured from the heavens and flooded the snow. Murky rivulets which streak the streets when the sun shines were glazed with a film of ice, and the shadows of trees barring the white-hidden garden, pointed long dark fingers across the snow. Why is the symphony of shadow and moonlight so much lovelier than the light of day? For the stark old trees, which stand against a sunny blue sky by day are sinister and accusing by night. Their meagre shadows crook into the light, defying shelter and hiding place.

Who, was trying to hide from the light of four o'clock noon, we wondered. Maybe it was pagan, repentant with unuttered thoughts, a telepathy of fear. Whatever there was in that garden that sought the shelter of night, cringed in terror beneath the all revealing light of the great white lamp, to high above. We would not have been surprised to have seen some grotesque figure leap into the white space, and weave right into the sentinel watch of the trees.

A light twinkled on in a house nearby—we saw a wavering column of smoke from a chimney trail lazily away. The spell of the ghost-watch was broken. . . . We drew the curtain across the eerie magic of the four o'clock moon.

MUSIC AT NIGHT

By Douglas Ainsworth in Good Housekeeping

What is it in the sound of music
That makes
Amid a crowd at nighttime, when the rush
Of Life's mad course runs free, that brings a hush
To voices there, as if the strains had
The end of man's desire and his soul
Stands still to sense somewhere a greater goal?

The mystic sound of music! Can it be
That here, invisible to mortal eye,
On every hand are things that can not die.
And music, sweeping round us like a sea,
Breaks on the human soul to wash it clean
That we may glimpse awile the great Unseen?

Tuesday evening's entertainment for soldier patients in the Red Cross Hut at the University hospital was provided by a clever group of C.G.I.T. from the Metropolitan church, under the leadership of Miss Doris Berry. Humorous skits, music, and dancing were included in the program.

Flag Salute In City Schools Is Protested

Protesting that the practice of saluting the flag is enforced among small children in the schools, is indirect propaganda for war, in so far as the flag no longer stands for the principles it was originally intended to, a delegation from the Edmonton Mothers' Council for the Protection of Youth waited upon the school board on Tuesday evening to explain their stand.

At their meeting in the Scandinavian Hall early in the afternoon strong feeling in the matter was expressed by Mrs. Grace Murdoch who offered an account of the progress of the investigating committee. Citing the example of the On to Ottawa trekkers, Mrs. Murdoch said "How could they salute a flag and feel sincere after all their bitter experiences."

The speaker urged the study of codes, monetary exchange, and other questions of economic interest as steps in preparation for the establishment of one political party, controlled by the people.

The council has now obtained its charter, it was announced.

Rev. J. T. Stephens, spoke encouragingly of the attitude of the day, quoting the text, "A man's life doth not consist in the abundance of things he possesseth." And logerically, he sketched the Mothers' council as striving toward an ideal city where youth would be safe, where such principles as the right to live and laws would be defended, where virtue would be in clear perspective, and where there would be palaces so that its citizens would not lose sight of beauty.

Mrs. J. Zender presided at the business session and during the tea hour which followed her daughter, Kathryn, sang delightfully.

BRIDAL GOWNS SPELL ROMANCE OF SPRINGTIME

It will certainly be "for better" that a bride of early springtime may choose this wedding gown from the exclusive models on display at the T. Eaton Company store this week. Gowns for themselves and their attendants are featured to form the most delicate and harmonious ensemble against a pretty floral setting.

Particularly attractive in the evening are the brightly illuminated windows at Eaton's where the exquisite frocks of a spring bride and her bridesmaids are shown to best advantage against a background of flowers. Sprays of green leaves to which are attached tiny blue bubbles blown of crystal, prism-like, reflect the lights and impart an incredible delicacy.

The wedding gown, of snow-white slipper satin has a closely fitted bodice and finishes in a court length train. A single row of tiny satin—covered buttons are arranged at the front for the whole length and the collar is cleverly pleated. A filmy veil of point d'esprit falls from a tiara of white blossoms.

The maid of honor's delightful frock in palest green is worn with a long pleated cape and shallow wide brimmed chapeau. Bag and accessories are in gold.

The bridesmaids are in gauzy rose and green net dresses with tiny matching turbans. Rows and rows of pleats are in keeping with the popular vogue.

A tiny flower girl wears pink net and carries a pretty nosegay of forget-me-nots.

Irish Devote Saint's Day To Feasting

The "most distressful country" has about the finest feast day in the world for not only does it celebrate the gay daughter of Erin but heralds the bright sunshine of spring. After the longest cold "spell" in ten years, Canadians are looking forward to spring with an eagerness that demands celebration.

A St. Patrick's party is always pleasant and the emerald green makes the guests take a patriotic air. A touch of green in the food sets the party off too, but just a touch, perhaps a fine bit of sparkling mint jelly nestled in the snow white icing of a St. Patrick's cake, or delicately tinted coconut used to cover downy-light cup cakes. Coconut is easily tinted, just sprinkle a few drops of fresh, inexpensive food coloring in a paper bag, add coconut and dilute a tiny bit of vegetable coloring in a small amount of water, pour over the coconut and rub evenly through it.

St. Patrick's cake is made from the following recipe: 2 cups sifted cake flour; 1 teaspoon soda; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 cup butter or other shortening; 2-3 cup water; 1 1-3 cups brown sugar, firmly packed; 2 eggs well beaten; 4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, and sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well; then chocolate and beat until smooth. Add flour, alternately with water, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two deep greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Frost with Seven Minute Frosting and use bits of mint jelly to add St. Patrick's Day color.

Care Should Be Taken In Making Croquettes

By MARY E. DAGUE

The beef, veal, fish or ham of yesterday will go down twice as well the second day if you make it into croquettes. Or you may combine two or three of the meats, veal and ham, say, or chicken and ham, or veal and pork.

Sister Mary

Of course every bit of skin, fat or gristle must be discarded a n d only clear, tender flesh used in the croquette m i x ture. Mince the meat and add to sauce as the sauce is taken from the fire. This is important because of the danger of overcooking the meat.

Every particle of the surface of a croquette must be completely covered with crumbs and egg. The egg quickly coagulates in contact with heat, forming a coating which the frying fat cannot penetrate. But carelessness in crumbing and egging may permit the croquette to break during the frying, which is ruinous. A first coating of fine crumbs, one of slightly beaten egg and a final one of crumbs is the proper order.

HANDLE MIXTURE GENTLY

The mixture must be handled gently, with the least possible pressure in moulding.

The usual shapes are ball, cone, cylinder, chop and cutlet. The last two require a larger amount of the mixture than the others.

To shape croquettes thoroughly, wash your hands and rinse in cold water but do not dry. Take a rounded tablespoonful of the mixture and place on a moulding board. Shape quickly with fingers. Roll the mixture into a ball first. Then if not wanted in this shape, roll to a cylinder and flatten ends. If a cone is wanted, flatten only one end and gently roll with greater pressure on the other end.

The inside of all croquettes should be soft and creamy and the outside crisp and brown.

For a luncheon, serve mushroom sauce with veal croquettes and have stuffed tomato salad. And for dessert this time of year nothing could be better than a strawberry shortcake or meringue shells filled with maple mousse.

For a simple veal croquette family dinner, begin with tomato juice cocktail, have cream'd carrots with the croquettes, the pear salad and finish with rhubarb pie.

Two cups finely chopped cooked veal, few drops onion juice, few gratings nutmeg, 1 tablspoon minced parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup flour, 1 egg.

Melt butter and stir in flour. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Season with onion juice, parsley, nutmeg, salt and pepper and bring to the boiling point. Add egg slightly beaten and cook and stir for half a minute. Remove from fire and stir in meat. Spread on platter to cool. When cool, shape, roll in crumbs and fry in deep hot fat. The fat should be hot enough to brown an inch cube of soft bread in forty seconds or 385 degrees F. on a fat thermometer. Drain on brown paper.

Tomorrow's Menu

DINNER: Tomato juice cocktail, veal croquettes, creamed carrots, stuffed peach salad, rhubarb pie, milk, coffee.

What To Do

We have recently purchased a house and find the plastered walls in very bad condition. From all appearances it looks as if the holes were made by the children of the people who formerly owned the house. Is there anything we can do to fill the holes and make a smooth wall? J. D. JONES.

Answer—You will have no difficulty in filling the holes in your plastered walls. There are several standard patching plasters used just for this purpose. The plaster is mixed with water to a thick consistency and then applied with a putty knife or an ordinary kitchen knife or spatula directly into the holes in the walls. Any excess mortar is removed with a knife to make the surface smooth with the plane of the wall. Be sure to let the patched spots become thoroughly dry and hard and then sandpaper any rough places before painting or papering.

Mothers-In-Law Band Together For Rights

The worm has turned at last, and when the female of the species does turn she simply gyrates. Nothing else. The poor, downtrodden mother-in-law, indignant at having her chances imperiled every time fair name made a by-word and a hissing; weary of walking on eggs to try to placate her sons' wives; rebellious at being made the family nanny goat, has put her back up and is proceeding to lay down the law to her supercilious daughters-in-law.

The constitution of the Mothers-in-Law of Massachusetts is a drastic document that does not mince matters. It says: "In every human relationship, every contract, partnership, or whatever, that which we call JUSTICE devolves upon equable division, a return of value for like value. No arrangement is legal, nor fair, nor just, in which one party takes all and gives nothing—nor gives all and gets ill return. Therefore be it resolved: That we, the Mothers-in-Law of Massachusetts shall and do bind ourselves to the following equalizing rules of conduct with regard to our sons, their wives, their homes, their children and ourselves and our own homes.

Dorothy Dix

"No mother-in-law of this organization shall give or offer advice of any sort, kind or form from her life experience, or knowledge, or whatever. Nor shall she give assistance based upon her skill in homecraft to the wife of her son, nor to her son. Neither shall she give or offer any assistance, presents, loans, or whatever, either material, spiritual, tangible or intangible. Her gifts to her daughter-in-law at marriage shall not exceed in value the sum of $5. She shall add to this nothing of any sort or kind or type, either material in value or whatever, whether old or new.

"She shall not give nor loan from her reserves food, nor clothing, nor furnishing, nor bedding, nor kitchen-ware, nor linens, nor whatever.

"She shall not allow her son and his wife to dine at her home without specific invitation at any time whatsoever, and these invitations shall not exceed twice in any one year, whether upon birthdays, holidays or any other days.

"She shall not in times of financial strain give any financial assistance. Neither shall she in any way contribute from her to her son, his wife, or his family to live until their own home can be again maintained.

"She shall not, in the event of her son losing employment, seek out any family friend or relative and obtain employment for her son. She shall consider their affairs impersonally, whether said affairs are prosperous or stringent, whether said af airs are well managed or ill

"She shall at no time nurse her son, nor his wife, nor his children in illness. She shall interfere in no way with the doings of his household, either to help, lend, give assistance, fulfill any need, nor give ear to any complaint.

"She shall view the doings of her son's family in prosperity or lack, their wisdom or folly, good fortune or ill, illness or health, progress or retrogression with the same impersonality of attitude as toward a family across the street.

"She shall assume no responsibility with regard to her son's children, nor allow or permit them to be left in her care at any time whatsoever, for any interval whether short or long."

Whew! Isn't that a bill of rights for you? It is enough to make any daughter-in-law's hair curl so that she won't need to have a permanent for years and years. For it is the one thing to tell mother-in-law where she gets off and that you won't have her sticking her finger in your pie and interfering with the way you raise the children, or handing out unsought advice, but it is something else yet again, and quite different, to have mother-in-law snap her purse shut and refuse to let you park the children at her house when you want to play bridge, and leave you to get along the best you can when there is sickness in the family.

It is a fine and heartening thing to think of the dynamited Mothers-in-Law of America demanding a square deal from their daughters-in-law, but it will come to nothing. Every individual mother will be so afraid that her son's wife will separate him from her that she will lie down and let daughter-in-law walk over her again.

Glasses Need Not Mar Your Attractiveness

By GLADYS GLAD

It's a sad but true fact that most girls who are forced to wear glasses consider themselves definitely doomed to spinsterhood. If you will believe Ann Dvorak, raven-haired screen charmer, however, that is definitely a foolish idea. Ann herself often wears glasses when she is going to subject her eyes to any strain. And she believes that the trouble with most girls who wear glasses is that they seldom try to make themselves appear attractive. They feel that glasses rob them of all their appeal, and so they neglect themselves utterly.

Let me tell you right here and now that the idea that glasses detract from personal charm is false and archaic. Of course, any defect in vision that makes glasses a necessity is a misfortune. But nowadays, glasses really don't prove incompatible with beauty. If proper attention is given to makeup, and if the glasses are intelligently chosen, such eye-wear should not detract in the least from the loveliness of a woman's appearance.

The facial contours are of basic importance when choosing glasses. If you have delicate features, a softly pretty face, light frames of thin silver, gold, white-gold or platinum are usually best. While if you are the striking type, and possess rather large features, heavier frames may become you much more. You should try different types of frames when choosing your glasses, until you find the type that most becomes you. And of course, many glasses now have no rims and are barely noticeable.

USE MAKEUP

As to makeup, the eyes, in particular, require it when glasses are worn. For when viewed through glasses, eyes lose some of their brightness and coloring. Eyeshadow should, therefore, be used by the bespectacled damsel, in order to give her eyes emphasis and to bring out their lustrous coloring. Mascara applied to the lashes also helps to give the eyes emphasis.

Care must be used in applying rouge by the girl who wears glasses. Apply it only lightly up near your eyes, for the shadows cast by the frames of the glasses will deepen the color in the upper areas of your cheeks. Lipstick, too, should be worn, in order to establish a proper balance. If the mouth is pale, the glasses will be rendered too conspicuous. While if the depth of color of the lips is brightened, the glasses will become less prominent.

The Debunker

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph D

Some labor-saving machines have created more jobs for laborers than they displaced with the machine. The invention of the automobile, which has brought a whole succession of other resulting devices saving labor, has created work for millions of people who work in the automobile factories, tire factories, rubber plantations, oil fields, gasoline stations, garages, auto repair shops, on road-building projects, and a great many other industries that came into existence because of the invention of the automobile. It is ridiculous to say that science has caused all unemployment. It is labor's best friend.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRANE Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

"Run to the windowsl," Goldy cried. "That's how we all can see inside. I guess this is a mystery house. Who's going to peek in first?

"I've seen a lot of crazy shacks with tipsy tops, and full of cracks, but I think you all will agree that this one is the worst."

"Say, your remarks are not quite fair. If you knew just who lives in there, you wouldn't wonder at the house," the dutch loudly cried.

"It's called the Daffy House, you see, and, true, it's crazy as can be. The reason is because some daffodils reside inside.

"Now, if you Tinymites will stand back out of sight, I'll wave my hand and make the front door open. I have magic powers galore.

"Strange things? I can do lots and lots for any hippy little tots."

"Well, go ahead and prove it, please," the bunch heard Duncy roar.

And then the Tinies watched the man, as to the house he quickly ran. They saw him wave his arms around. It was a funny sight.

In just a moment, Goldy cried, "Hey, look! The door is open wide. What Mister Cattail told us, tots, is working out all right."

Another Tiny shouted, "Yes, he wasn't fooling us, I guess. And now a little daffodil is in the door Hurray!

"It's jumping 'round and 'round and 'round. Just like a ball it seems to bound. Perhaps 'twould like to have us come and join it in some play."

"Not yet," exclaimed the cattail. "You stay back. Just as I told you to. The daffodil is going to do a daffy dance for me."

FLUSH KIDNEYS

YOU can prolong life by taking the advice of a famous physician, which is: "Keep the kidneys in good order, avoid too much meat, salt, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric in tablet form." It is the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all druggists.

Read what Wm. G. O'Brien of Midland Place, Toronto, Ont. said: "I was having trouble which I felt was due to my kidneys. When I stooped over or sat down awhile I would get a pain across my back that made me miserable and I could hardly straighten up. I used four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and had no further trouble. I felt like a new man. Any one

Your Children -

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Children should be happy because they have no responsibilities," Mrs. White answered the doctor's question. The doctor had asked her why she thought Betty should be more cheerful.

"She is as cross as two sticks, won't eat her meals and she is getting so thin I had to come and see you." Mrs. White said. And after the doctor had put a few queries, ended up with, "We do everything in the world for her. Fortunately we are rather well fixed and she has more advantages than most of the other children she plays with. Anyway, all children should be happy because they have no responsibility. It is natural for them to be happy."

O. R. Barton

"Could you tell me approximately just what Betty does in a day? We'll take tomorrow, Tuesday. What will she do all day? Put in everything."

"Tuesday," Mrs. White concentrated. "Well, she will get up and take a bath and get dressed and go to school. Breakfast, of course, such as she eats. Then she comes home for lunch. She goes back and gets home at a quarter to four. No, on Tuesday she stops at Miss Worth's and gets a shampoo and wave. She loves curly hair and hers is so straight. She will be home by five. I hope she does, because I don't. Mrs. Terry she wouldn't be late for dancing class again. She has the children twice a week from five to six. She tried four o'clock, but they couldn't get there."

"Does Betty like dancing?"

"Pretty well, but she needs it. She is so awkward. The only thing I have against it is that it interferes with her practicing. She does lessons after dinner, but I think it high time they cut out night work. It doesn't give the children time for anything else. She goes to bed at nine."

"How about Wednesday?"

"Well, every Wednesday she has to have the band on her teeth, looked after. And Dr. Brown is so far away. Then afterward I have Mrs. Price coming to take her measure for new dresses. Betty's a pretty lucky child, doctor, I buy her the best."

MORE FULL DAYS

"Thursday?"

"Well, I don't know. It's Annie's day out, but I would like to take Betty and have her picture taken for her father's birthday. Either that or Saturday. Saturday is about the only time I can get hold of Betty. Even then it's hard because she has another dancing lesson and her music lesson, too. And usually I have to talk her out of a movie."

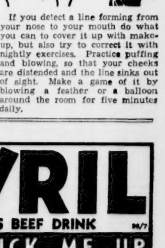

"What a pity Betty isn't a poor little girl," said the doctor. "One who doesn't have to live up to advantages—who just 'grows up' like Topsy. She would be so much happier. What was it you said about responsibility?"

"Children haven't any."

"One of us is wrong then, because I don't agree. Ease some of her burdens and she'll be a different child."

GIROUX MOTION IS TURNED DOWN

Contending that equally efficient service could be given at less cost, L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, in the legislature on Tuesday, during discussion of estimates, moved elimination of a vote for $89,398, representing an appropriation for operation of the provincial schools of agriculture and the work now being done there, transferred to the University of Alberta.

After some discussion the motion was lost.

"This is an annual motion with me," said Mr. Giroux. "I feel we could save the amount of this appropriation and still would not impair service."

The motion was opposed by H. J. Ash, S.C., Olds.

A. W. Flamme, S.C., Cypress, moved to cut out the vote of $4,772 for the provincial veterinarian, claiming the post was unnecessary. He could not get sufficient support from his colleagues and his motion was lost.

It was pointed out in opposition to the motion, that the provincial veterinarian carried out valuable services and specially in view of the fact that private practitioners were few in number.

When the vote for carrying on the provincial library was under review, L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grouard, asked if it was the government's intention to keep it up to standard and Premier William Aberhart replied that it was and that if necessary a librarian would be appointed.

Hollywood Gossip

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By PAUL HARRISON

Hard, are they? Open beer bottles with their teeth, do they? On the screen they kick their grandmothers, steal the savings of blind men, slit throats, burn down orphanages and smash grapefruit in the faces of their lady loves. Where they walk the grass never grows again. Haw!

Here's a composite picture of Hollywood's movie villians: They take a traffic ticket without argument. They give quarters to drunken panhandlers. They read more books, probably, than any other class of Hollywoodmen. They tell bedtime stories to their children. And their passion is collecting stamps.

Take Barton McLane. In "G-Men" he was a ruthless killer. In "Dr. Socrates" he amused himself with robbery and murder. In "I Found Stella Parish" he was a blackmailer and slayer.

Off-screen, McLane never hit anything but a golf ball. Evenings, he mostly darn's home and reads. His mother believes he is shamefully miscast.

Paul Muni has undergone a flicker reformation lately, but he still could do a "Scarface" or "Fugitive" at the drop of a contract.

What Muni best likes doing, though, is puttering around with flowers. He has never robbed even a bird's nest.

HE DETESTS FIGHTING

Ricardo Cortez probably has done more wrong, on the screen, than any other actor. Always the scoundrel. Personally, he's suave and gentlemanly, detests fighting and bloodshed, and won't even go hunting and shoot anything.

A good deal must have been written about Jimmy Cagney, who generally is a tough hombre on the screen, though not quite an evil one. Mr. Cagney plays the piano, reads ponderous books, worries about civilization, is bashful in the presence of women, paints a little, and is afraid of going

Peter Lorré is a spine-chiller who is nothing more than a quiet intellectual in private life. Boris Karloff is another. Some people are unable to watch him on the screen, and many a parent wins obedience by saying, "Now be good, you little so-an-so, or we will feed you to Boris Karloff."

BORIS HATES HORRORS

Karloff has been a mummy, a monster, a ghoul, and a corpse in "The Walking Dead" he is electrocuted, and is revived long enough to enjoy some grisly vengeance.

Mr. Karloff, however, really hates being the movie's heeby-jeebie man. On any Sunday afternoon you can find him on the cricket field at Westwood, along with other proper Britishers, fielding, bowling, or batting from the wicket. Has an awfully jolly time of it, and tea at 5 o'clock.

SEASICK SEAFARER

Charles Laughton may or may not be considered a villain of the screen, depending on whether you've seen him in such pictures as "Mutiny on the Bounty" or in "Ruggles of Red Gap." But he's far from the iron-nerved, brutal sailor he seemed to be in the Bounty picture. In fact, he gets seasick every time he crosses the ocean.

And his only toughness in private life is a bit of profanity. He has fierce arguments with Shakespeare, and boasts of his ability of tickling trout and then catching them by hand.

URGE CAMPAIGN TO ERADICATE NOXIOUS WEEDS

J. J. Bowlen Contends That Weed Ravages Cost Farmers More Than Taxes

Contending that weed ravages cost Alberta farmers more than all the taxes they pay, John J. Bowlen, Calgary, Liberal house leader, during discussion of agricultural department estimates in the legislature on Tuesday, strongly advocated that a vigorous campaign be instituted to eradicate noxious weeds from the province.

The Liberal house leader brought up the question when the house sitting in committee of the whole, reached an appropriation of $29,385 for destruction of noxious weeds.

SPREAD DISEASE

"Why weeds are the cause of some farmers not getting more than one third of their expected crop," he said. "One or two careless farmers can spread disease among crops through weeds. This situation is getting worse year by year."

Urging that action be taken at an early date, Mr. Bowlen declared that the legislature should "Put some teeth in the act" which governs noxious weeds.

There was no excuse for delaying action and he urged immediate embarkation upon such a campaign.

After some discussion the appropriation was tabled for further consideration.

J. M. McCune, S.C., Gleichen, stressed the growing menace caused by weeds. There was in his estimation, just one way to save the situation and that was by making farming sufficiently profitable to give a just price to the farmers. He felt that sometimes inspectors had been too lenient.

EDUCATION NEEDED

H. J. Ash, S.C., Olds, felt that education was needed. More colleges such as that at Olds would fill the bill—something to make the farmers of the day better at their work than their fathers.

Rev. J. A. Wingblade, S.C., Wetaskiwin, declared that there was more work than theory in eradicating weeds. The inspectors were doing good work. He told of an instance where the growth of the sheep industry might keep down growth of thistles.

N. B. James, S.C., Acadia, and A. L. Blue, S.C., Ribstone, also participated in the debate.

HOUSE TURNS TO ESTIMATES

Completing the budget debate on Monday, members of the legislature on Tuesday plunged into a discussion of the estimates.

First to be considered were the estimates for the government activities under the executive council.

Appropriations included in this is the salary of $6500 for the premier, with $2000 for his secretary and $1200 for assistant secretary.

At the request of C. Gerald O'Connor, K.C., Edmonton, the votes of $6555 for the civil service commissioner's office; $146,000 for the civil service bonus and $200,000 for the superannuation fund were stood over.

Estimates dealing with the legislative end of government were also dealt with and under this department, R. E. Ansley, S.C., Leduc, challenged the $2160 vote to be divided among opposition leaders.

APPROVAL GIVEN AMENDING BILL

Approval was given by the legislature, sitting in committee of the whole assembly on Tuesday, to the amending bill to the Electric Power Taxation Act, which adds to the act an express power to collect the tax imposed by the act, by suit in any court of competent civil jurisdiction, and makes the tax a charge on the works of the holder, with priority over all other mortgages and encumbrances thereon.

Speaking in support of the bill, Hon. Charles Cockroft, provincial treasurer, said that under the act, companies were assessed for work in towns and villages. He submitted that if there was any revenue accruing under the act from carrier companies, it should be recovered by the provincial government.

With practically no further comment, the bill was reported.

The house also approved in committee of the whole, the bill to amend the Alberta Municipal Assessment Commission Act.

COMMITTEE FAVORS NO REDUCTION IN CIVIC SALARIES

Recommend Cuts Be Made In All City Estimates

Edmonton Bulletin
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

GAS PRICE REDUCTION IS POSSIBILITY

Oil Men Confer With the Government on the Situation

Possibility of a reduction in gasoline prices was mooted on Wednesday following a conference between Premier William Aberhart and members of his cabinet and representatives of all major companies in the province.

The conference was held in an effort to arrive at an amicable agreement whereby the price of gasoline to the consuming public will be reduced.

Following the conference Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, declared that the oil company representatives had made certain suggestions whereby prices may be reduced, but that they would be reporting to their head offices.

The minister further stated that the government did not desire to discuss the situation, in view of current negotiations with the companies. It was learned in reliable circles that if the companies did not voluntarily move toward a reduction, legislation would be introduced which might bring about a reduction.

ONTARIO PRICE

Replying to suggestions that reduction in the present government tax would automatically result in a decrease in price to consumers, the government replied that in Ontario, where a similar tax is in effect, the price to the consumer is at least eight cents per gallon less.

The company representatives contended that due to the large turnover in Ontario and other eastern points, it was possible to sell gasoline cheaper there than in Western Canada, where consumption figures do not reach anything like the amount consumed in the east.

Hon. Mr. Manning declared that if the present outlets were restricted, as had been done in Nova Scotia, the cost of handling the product would be reduced and the consumer would be able to benefit. He pointed out that after legislation governing gasoline prices and other fuel oils had been rendered effective in Nova Scotia, people had derived great benefit.

Instancing this, the Minister declared that when the last increase of one half cent per gallon was brought into effect throughout the Dominion, Nova Scotia declined to allow the increase, with the result that at present, gasoline there costs the consumer half a cent a gallon less than in the rest of Canada.

STATIONS WITHDRAWN

The minister further declared that when a wholesale tax was imposed on the basis of gallonage sold, there were 500 stations withdrawn in a comparatively short time.

It was learned that the government believes there are too many service stations in operation at present, resulting in a higher cost of handling gasoline.

The government will not compel any operating stations to close, but in future, it is said, regulations will be made more strict.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of the government, with a view to discussing possibility of companies providing a voluntary reduction.

Questioned concerning plans referring to the master code and the extent to which the oil business might be affected, the Minister said the oil business would not be coded at present.

Some discussion took place regarding the proposed increase of $200,000 from the fuel oil tax. The oil men were informed by the government that it had discussed regulations covering fuel oils in the U. S. and in Nova Scotia, and regulations would be drafted along similar lines.

Burglars Take Mouth Organs

Musical burglars, evidently juveniles, broke into Robinson and Sons' music store early Wednesday morning, stealing six mouth organs and $6.52 in cash. They also took $5 in stamps, but threw them away in the lane. The break-in was discovered by Constable K. Murray at 4 a.m.

Thieves who stole a car from William Belrose, South Side taxi operator, Tuesday, abandoned it near Leduc, where it was found turned over in the ditch early Wednesday morning. R.C.M.P. and city police are investigating.

Car owned by Stewart Smith, a 1929 Chevrolet, blue sedan, license 73128, was stolen downtown Tuesday.

Special Committee Urges All Estimates be Reduced By Commissioners From 2 to 10 Per Cent.

Instructed by city council to consider revision of civic salaries for this year, a special committee which met Tuesday recommended that no reduction in salaries be made but that commissioners be ordered to make cuts ranging from two to 10 per cent in current estimates for all city departments.

Motion that no salary reductions be made was moved by Ald. Margaret Crang, who stated that lower salaries would decrease purchasing power and would not reduce the mill rate to any extent.

LOWER EXPENSES

Believing that expenditures would have to be lowered in order that a reasonable mill rate could be fixed, Ald. E. East then moved that all departmental estimates for 1936 be reduced from two to 10 per cent, depending on the nature of the departments concerned.

Early in the discussions the committee, which is composed of Aldermen J. T. McCreath, chairman, Ald. East, Ald. Crang and Ald. W. W. Clevely, was of the opinion that if salaries were slashed those earning $2,400 and under a year should not be affected.

Opposed to a general downward revision of salaries, Mayor Jos. A. Clarke, K.C., stated that the same result could be secured by ordering commissioners to reduce estimates for all departments.

IS OPPOSED

Ald. Crang said she was opposed to salary cuts on principle.

A considerable saving could be made by abolishing the inspection staff in the direct relief department and by amalgamating the direct and permanent relief departments under one head, Mayor Clarke opined. He suggested that the police service be given the job of carrying out relief inspections.

Even if all salaries were reduced to $2,400 a year the city would only save less than half a mill, explained Ald. East.

Ald. McCreath was of the opinion that council should be given direction by commissioners as to ways and means of arriving at a lower mill rate.

Owing to business reasons, Ald. Clevely could not attend the meeting.

PUBLIC MEETING WILL DISCUSS BUDGET, CODES

Under joint auspices of the C.C.F. clubs, the Canadian Labor Party, the C.C.Y.M. and the Communist Party of Canada a public meeting is being called at the Empire theatre on Sunday, March 15, at 3 p.m. to discuss the provincial budget and code legislation.

Speakers so far on the program are Alderman J. East, Harry Miller, chairman, Canadian Labor Party, Edmonton Branch, Harold Gerry and Walter Mentz.

An invitation is extended to the Social Credit members for Edmonton to speak at this meeting.

ROAD REPORT

The Alberta Motor Association road and weather report for Wednesday indicates mild weather with roads in a slightly improved condition.

A detailed report for Northern Alberta roads is as follows:

HOT KISS OF SUN AT WORK

Bright sunshine Wednesday morning brought additional promise of agreeable weather as the forecast read, "fair today and Thursday with a tendency towards higher temperatures."

Tuesday's high of 39 above was reached at 3:00 p.m.; a steady drop from that point took the mercury to 10 above at 6:00 a.m., then to 12 above for two hours, and under the rays of brilliant sun the red shot up in the glass to 18 above within the hour.

Temperatures Wednesday morning were generally lower throughout the near north with Pelican at 28 above being the warmest point.

CITY DISCUSSES BANK FINANCING

Co-operation of the bank providing the city adopted wise financing methods was promised commissioners Tuesday by J. A. Wetmore, manager of the Imperial bank, when civic officials conferred with him on the question of what financial assistance Edmonton could expect from its bankers this year.

Mr. Wetmore indicated that before any definite arrangement could be made with the city the mill rate would have to be set. It is expected the rate will be fixed this week, possibly Wednesday when city council sits at 5 p.m. to consider estimates.

This Writer Must Believe In Brevity

"If you have nothing to say, be brief!" is a motto displayed in many business offices.

For sheer brevity and vagueness, the following letter received by City Clerk Alfred Russell Wednesday takes the cake: "Edmonton City Council, Edmonton Alberta—Gentlemen: Yours sincerely, ———."

The writer, who addresses his letter envelope to the "Edmonton Concil", resides in Ladner, B.C.

Hospital Quarantine

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., March 11.—After Leslie Farrell got into the hospital here nobody else got out. Seeking treatment for an injured foot, Farrell came from Bay De Nord, Nfld., where there is an epidemic of chicken pox. The hospital was placed under quarantine.

Police Court

The suggestion, introduced by Defence Counsel G. H. Van Allen, K.C., that a quantity of illicitly manufactured liquor had been "planted" in an open shed at the rear of the store and residence of George Gigger, 12202 88 street, resulted in his dismissal on a charge of illegal possession of the distillate.

Gigger was fined $20 and costs on a charge of illegal possession of liquor, a case of beer which was found in the basement of his premises, used for both grocery store and residence. The liquor was purchased on Mrs. Gigger's permit but the act provided that a building which was not used exclusively as residence was an unlawful place in which to have liquor.

City Prosecutor A. E. Popple, held that Gigger had been in possession of the beer because, "he drank two bottles of it."

"It's not an offence to have liquor inside you, it's only when you have it outside you," Mr. Van Allen suggested.

FARMERS FACE BIG DEBTS ON LANDS BOUGHT

Debtors, Creditors Appear Before Review Board For Adjustment

Two farming partners holding a half-section of land in the north-eastern portion of the province bought the farm at a price of $2,800 several years ago on the instalment plan and now owe $3,790 on the land, it was revealed Wednesday when the debtors came before the Farm Review Board at Supreme Court. The board operates under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act.

Decision on this case was reserved by the board, of which Mr. Justice Mitchell is chairman.

PAY PART

A portion of the original price has been paid by the partners, who were charged seven per cent interest on the debt and who owe $200 in back taxes. Appellants claimed that inflated land prices at the time they made the purchase, depressed prices for farm products and crop failures were reasons for their inability to meet the debt.

Firms from which the men bought machinery have agreed to reduce the amount still owing on equipment from $881 to $660, interest to be charged at a rate of five per cent.

$4,100 ASSETS

The partners place their total assets at $4,100.

"Do you want to get your debt cut so you can get married?" Mr. Justice Mitchell jocularly asked.

Debtors chorussed an emphatic "No!"

Another appeal over debt was submitted by an Edmonton district farmer who works 350 acres, and who has farmed for 25 years. He told the board he had spent $22,390 on land, improvements and machinery and now owed $20,830, and placed his present assets at $21,500.

Decision was also reserved in this case.

McKernan District Community League Discusses Dickens

McKernan District community league held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bounds. Regular business and a discussion of rink affairs formed the main topic, and it was decided to have an illustrated lecture in St. John's hall on Friday, March 27th, in an endeavor to clean up a small balance due in connection with the community rink.

After the conclusion of business H. R. Leaver gave a much appreciated talk on the writings of Charles Dickens. Mr. Leaver traced through Dickens' various works the continuous fight of the author against the twin evils of ignorance and want. The talk paved the way for a free discussion of educational matters, following which refreshments were served.

SPECIAL MEET COUNCIL WILL FIX MILL RATE

Will Likely be Between 55 and 53 is Prediction

Faced with a budget of approximately $4,600,000, city council was scheduled to meet at 5 p.m. Wednesday to find a way out of Edmonton's financial difficulties and set a mill rate as near 50 mills as possible. According to rumors from well-informed sources, the rate will likely be between 53 and 55.

Commissioners met Tuesday with officials of the Imperial Bank with a view to learning just how much credit the bank is willing to extend to the city this year for current financing. While council has passed a bylaw giving commissioners power to borrow up to $3,500,000, the bank has not yet indicated whether it it willing to go this far, bankers explain they want to know what the 1936 mill rate will be before giving an answer.

MORE BONDS

Wednesday morning commissioners waited on the city sinking fund board with the proposal that the board accept more bonds from the city this year, including the $250,000 for direct relief which it is planned to capitalize. While the board did not commit itself on a line of action, it is understood sinking fund trustees were averse to accepting more debentures from the city than absolutely necessary.

Trustees explained that in 1935 the board accepted $1,963,000 of Edmonton bonds floated to capitalize various expenditures. These debentures were taken over at par—$100—and the claim is made that the sinking fund lost $291,000 on the transactions, as it could have gone out in the open market and bought other bonds for $87.

CUT IN ESTIMATES

To further complicate matters, a special committee of council has recommended against civic salary reductions, but has suggested to council that commissioners be instructed to cut estimates for all departments from two to 10 per cent.

All these angles, together with a financial report by Comptroller John Hodgson, will be considered at Wednesday's special parley.

NEGOTIATING ON EMPLOYEES

Negotiations are being continued between the Alberta Liquor Control Board and Distributors, Ltd., regarding the number and personnel of employees to be taken over by the government when it takes over distribution of beer in the province on April 1, it was learned on Wednesday.

Asked regarding the situation, R. J. Dinning, chairman of the Liquor Control Board said that no list of employees to be taken over by the government had been prepared as yet.

"We are negotiating and cooperating with Distributors, Ltd., on this point. They have a representative in the city today and we are carrying on our work in this respect."

Asked when the list would be ready, Mr. Dinning replied it would not be until just before the end of the month.

It was possible, he said, that in addition to the employees taken over by the government, the breweries would protect some of their old employees.

G. W. Dover, of Calgary, representing Distributors Ltd. is a city visitor and is conferring with Mr. Dinning on the situation.

GOOD PROGRESS AT YELLOWKNIFE MINE

To complete plans for summer full-time operations and to receive instructions from the east, Major L. T. Burwash of the Burwash Yellowknife Mines flew out from the mining properties of which he is general superintendent to Edmonton Tuesday.

With him came two of his crew of 18. Their contracts up, Miners Jim Wallace and John Lindquist were passengers with the Major in the Mackenzie Air Service plane.

The winter crew of 18 at Burwash Yellowknife Mines is to be pared down to ten until after break-up.

Progress at the property since Major Burwash came "out" last fall includes depth down to 155 feet, seventy feet of crosscut and "drift" which is following the vein for 100 feet.

Ore samples taken from the mine have all been sent east. Meantime the company allowed its men to stake properties of their own and plans intensive production and development work when the frost leaves the ground.

Land from Great Slave 35 miles east to Landing Lake has all been staked and a rush into the northern mining fields is expected by those already at work there.

Major Burwash expects to fly back to the Yellowknife Thursday when Leigh Brintnell, superintendent of Mackenzie Air Services, hops north. Lindquist and Wallace will remain here until after break-up.

Organization Of Rooming House Owners Mooted

An organization meeting of all owners and operators of rooming houses in the city of Edmonton is being held Sunday, March 15, in the Emery Hall at 2:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans in regard to meeting the City Commissioners and the city council in order to petition for a higher scale of payment from relief recipients for board and room purposes. All owners or operators are requested to attend. Representation will also be made to the provincial government who share in the costs of relief.

CITY CHARTER AMENDMENTS ARE APPROVED

Municipal Law Committee Ratifies New Provisions

Completing discussion on Edmonton charter amendments, the municipal law committee of the legislature on Wednesday sent the amending bill back to the legislature as a whole for final ratification and action. Sitting under the chairmanship of W. J. Lampley, S.C., Peace River, the committee wound up discussion on the charter in short order.

A section of the amending bill passed on Wednesday was that providing for cancellation of four old series of city debentures, amounting to $239,325 and their replacement by new issues. City Solicitor Thomas E. Garside explained that the old issues were never in fact issued, but were left in the bank and it was proposed that the new issues would also be left in the bank as security for the city's overdraft.

BUSINESS TAX

Under a clause amending the business tax provisions all personal property of every nature and kind belonging to the person assessed or used in connection with the business "carried on upon any land, place or premises for which a person is assessed under the business assessment shall be liable for the business taxes due by such person."

Another section, stood over from discussion last week, retains the $500 property qualification for aldermen. This retains requirements as at present.

Business taxes, by the amending bill, will be a first charge on any business or business men, except that they will not be applicable to real property and will not take precedence over chattel mortgage interest, or over a lien note. Debts owing the city or the hospital board by any person, firm or organization employed by the city, or part of whose income is obtained from the city, can be settled out of those payments or set off against them.

EXTEND ASSESSMENT

Another section of the bill empowers the city council to extend into 1937 and 1938 the provision by which it may fix an assessment on any piece of property being improved. This assessment would be for five years and of not less than $25,000. Under the charter as it existed, the council's power applied to only 1935 and 1936.

Mayor J. A. Clarke, K.C., explained that the chief object of the amendment was to provide for granting of a fixed assessment to Canada Packers Ltd., which has recently signed to build a large plant here.

Mr. Garside explained that the city's tax roll for the year had been completed and the fixed assessment would have to be brought in either next year or the year after, when the plant was completed.

Another clause provides that "a bylaw or regulation passed by the city council in the exercise of any powers conferred under the charter or any other act conferring powers upon the council and in good faith shall not be open to question or be quashed, set aside or declared invalid either wholly or partly on account of the unreasonableness or supposed unreasonableness of the provisions of such bylaw or regulation or of any such provision."

Representing the Imperial Oil Company, George H. Steer, K.C., was against the provision dealing with service stations. He declared that the amendment should be held up for a couple of years to permit oil companies to realign their leases.

This request was rejected when Mayor Clarke and Mr. Garside said the city did not contemplate any implementing of a business tax until August and this would give the oil companies time to make arrangements with station operators.

PRAIRIE WEST FERTILE FIELD FOR BUSINESS

Goodrich Company Executives See Great Improvement Generally

The prairie west is a fertile field for business and to get a first hand slant on the possibilities for the year, F. G. Morley, general manager; S. J. Devereaux, tire sales manager and A. A. Frew, western superintendent of the Goodrich Company Limited, Canadian, are making a coast-to-coast survey.

Mr. Morley and Mr. Devereaux, out from their Kitchener, Ontario, headquarters and Mr. Frew from his Winnipeg offices, arrived in the city Wednesday morning, registered at the Macdonald hotel and told reporters a surprising story of the rubber industry's enterprise in the invasion of new fields.

Rubber for railway lines, rubber for bridge plates and the development of blow out proof tires are three steps in the march of progress made in recent months by the industry.

INTO FARMING

The rubber men have even made inroads into the hold that the steel industry had on prairie wheat farmers. The old iron cleats on the wheels of tractors are fast being replaced by the big oversize jumbo-like tires.

General Manager Morley reported that the implement firms with sales offices in the west are finding the demand for rubber shod tractors on a rapid increase.

Not satisfied with edging the steel industry out of farming, the rubber men are gunning for the railway market and have developed rubber baffle plates for rails on bridges.

"These new baffle plates take the vibration out of the picture when trains rumble across a bridge," said General Manager Morley. "No vibration means that concrete and steel work of the bridge is not shaken apart and the passengers in the pullmans are not disturbed by the rumble of steel over steel."

BOUNCE ALONG HIGHWAYS

The Canadian National Railways have asked the Goodrich people to go to work on the proposition for Canadian lines, following the success in the United States of rubber baffle plates on railway bridges.

The American branch of Goodrich is turning out rubber surfaces for highways, toying with the idea of rubber rails to replace steel for railroad right of ways and working on a puncture-proof inner tube to mate with the blow-out-proof tire.

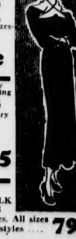

Success in the inner tube and tire field has already been attained but engineers are working continuously for improvement.

"We haven't even scratched the surface of the uses for rubber in industry," enthused General Manager Morley before he passed on to the usual interview bromides of better business, that eastern executives always have ready for western interviews.

"Conditions HAVE improved since we were out here last year," he said. "And business will continue to improve this year. Your growing optimism and the promising prospects of a whacking good crop is a combination that can mean only one thing . . . better business."

The rubber company executives will go to the Pacific coast before returning to their Ontario headquarters.

An experiment at Leipzig, Germany, in 1920, with the help of a radium solution to hatch chicks, showed that under these conditions the eggs developed in less than 15 days and the chicks were perfectly normal.

LUSCAR WINS PROVINCIAL HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP

CALGARY, March 11.—With a great display of courage, team play and determination, Luscar Indians won the Alberta senior hockey championship and the right to meet Prince Albert Mintos in the Allan cup playdowns, defeating Coleman Canadiens 4-3 in the third and deciding game of the provincial final at the Arena last night. Coleman had taken the first game 2-1 and Luscar the second 3-2 before the rubber match.

Indians rose to great heights in turning in a spectacular victory before a capacity crowd of more than 4,000, and it was really a brilliant win for the northern Coal Branch team. They earned it by cool and deliberate play under heavy fire, and are worthy champions of the province for the second time in three years.

MIKE WAS HERO

Michael Onychuk, in a way, was the hero of the contest, for he laid down the pass from Kennedy to score the tying goal six minutes from the end, and with two and a half minutes left to play ran in the winning tally on a solo effort that brought down the house.

Luscar had a good margin of the play in a scoreless first period before Jimmy McVey opened the count for Luscar with an end to end rush. Kennedy picked out the narrow side on Stewart's pass to make it 2-0 but Jimmy Joyce got one of those goals back for Coleman.

It was a thrilling close. Duke Kwasnie, burly Coleman defenceman, getting away on a centre ice pass from Brown to beat Goalie Davie Pow with a close in shot. Coleman continued the pressure, and Joe Fisher, former Edmonton junior, batted in Billy Fraser's rebound to send the Crows Nest champions ahead.

It was then that Luscar came through with a closing charge that just couldn't be denied. Their plays clicked with smooth regularity as McVey, Kennedy and Onychuk, backed by the spirited play of Lindsay Carver and Bollie Hills, clamored for goals. They came. Kennedy and Onychuk during the scoring with another counting effort by Kennedy being disallowed through a Luscar player being in the goal crease.

Canadians put up a game fight, though a losing one, and the Indians made a host of friends with a grand display of hockey. They were a credit to Coach Frank Coulson and their former mentor, Duke Keats.

LINEUPS:

Coleman: Soudarcille; R. Kwasnie, J. Kwasnie, W. Fraser; Joyce, Fisher. Subs: Joyce, Lopichuk, Brown, Johnson.

SUMMARY:

First Period: No scoring. Penalties: Hills 2, Fraser.

Second Period: 1, Luscar, McVey, 4:11. 2, Luscar, Kennedy (Stewart), 15:25. 3, Coleman, Joyce (Brown), 16:31. Penalties: None.

Third Period: 4, Coleman, J. Kwasnie (Brown), 3:17. 5, Coleman, Fisher, 6:08. 6, Luscar, Kennedy (Onychuk), 13:30. 7, Luscar, Onychuk, 17:42. Penalties: None.

$40,000, ELSE DIZZY WON'T THROW A BALL

BRADENTON, Fla., March 11.—The Dizzy Dean hold-out situation became an acute Tuesday that Mrs. Dizzy personally assumed command of future manoeuvres.

"I'll be right there when and if Dizzy goes to sign and I'll give him the O.K. before he sets his name down," said Mrs. Diz.

"And furthermore, if they make him 'sit out' this season, it'll cost them double. The Cardinals will have to come through with this year's back pay before he'll sign for 1937."

The Deans (Mr. and Mrs.) still insist Jerome Herman will not go as much as throw a ball for the Cardinals unless he is paid $40,000 for the year's work.

TEAMS TIED IN SANDLOT FINAL TILTS

Bandoliers Defeat Hawks, While Falcons Win Against Rovers

Bandoliers with a 3-2 triumph, and Falcons by winning 2-0 over Rovers evened up their best two-of-three game series in Sandlot Hockey League playoffs last night.

Both games resulted in brilliant hockey and teams were worthy winners in each case.

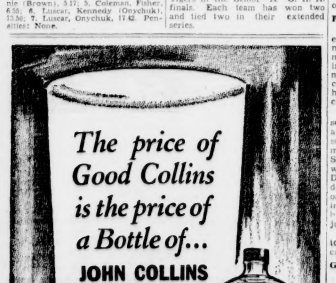

In the first game Blackhawks won over the Bandolier outfit while Rovers registered a well played triumph, and incidentally, both clubs were worth their triumphs last night.

It will take at least one more set of games for these teams to emerge series winners, but it has not been decided when those games will be played. With the return of colder weather, however, playing dates should be arranged without much difficulty and champions decided within a short time.

Officials last night were Jack Ward and Scotty Munro and both turned in good performances.

PLAYOFF REACHES SEVENTH CONTEST

KITCHENER, Ont., March 11—Niagara Falls Cataracts and Kitchener Greenshirts battled through 70 minutes of hockey to a 1-1 tie here last night and will have to play a seventh game to determine which team will meet Hamilton Tigers in the Senior "A" O. H. A. finals. Each team has won two and tied two in their extended series.

BOSTON'S HERO

PAUL RUNGE

South Siders Take Lead In Series for Senior School Hockey

It took forty-five minutes of fast moving hockey before those old rivals from Garneau and Victoria could decide just who has the best team. This year it appears that Garneau is tops; standout goal-keeping by Doug Smith, and the scoring punch of the Hargreave-Sutton duo combined to give the South Siders a 2 to 0 lead in the first of their two-game series for the high school senior championship.

Fighting up-hill all the way against a squad which has the double advantage of weight and experience, the Victoria crew displayed a sparkling brand of hockey which kept the Garneaulites right on their toes.

PLAY VERY EVEN

Play in the first period was very even, neither team was taking unnecessary chances and the defense men were keeping the puck well in centre ice area. Twice the Redmen broke through and came very close to netting the disc, but a little hurried shooting lost them their chance.

Things began to percolate in the second session. The ice was better and the boys didn't spare themselves. Garneau kept hemming in and midway through the period, Harold Sutton netted the first counter when he picked up a pass from Dougie Hargrave deep in the Vic defensive area. This put Garneau one in the lead and Vic was pressing hard for the equalizer. A scramble in front of the Garneau net just about left things even, but a Garneau goal managed to smother the rubber before it could do the fateful job.

GARNEAU HAD EDGE

Garneau's edge of play was even more distinct in the third canto. Twice early in the period Algar had wide open shots which White of Vic just got hold of. Caldwell of Vic broke away with only the goalie to beat, but Smith again pulled off a stop which broke the Vic supporters' hearts. Another melee, this time in front of the Victoria goal, and Hargreaves slapped in the rubber to put Garneau two goals in the lead.

The Green and Gold crew managed to hold this lead for the remaining minutes of play, and as a result they carry this two-goal lead into the second game of the series, which will be played Thursday at the South Side covered rink.

LINEUPS:

Pats and Pans

By BILL LEWIS

Hockey followers throughout Northern Alberta today will be highly pleased with Luscar Indians winning the Provincial Senior Amateur championship . . . Here is one who is willing to stand up and lead the cheering for the fighting band of pucksters A. N. Scott gathered together to represent the mountain mining-town.

In Calgary last night, they showed their fighting spirit by winning their second consecutive victory over Coleman Canadians, after dropping the opening game to them here last week.

Copping two in a row in the south after losing what was supposed to have been their "home" game takes plenty of what the writing boys refer to as intestinal fortitude—and the Indians proved they possess plenty of that.

So, once again, it is not out of place for all hockey fans in this part of the province to give them all of the congratulations that are their due, and to wish them the very best in the approaching inter-provincial playdowns.

Some Local Boys On Squad

Edmontonians take a particularly keen interest in the Luscar team, and are all the more pleased with their triumph, because of the fact there are a number of former local players on the Indians' lineup. . . . Lindsay Carver, Dec-Ay Gillies, Eddie Shamlock, Leo Lemieux all were practically raised on the ice of Edmonton rinks, while Bob Kennedy and Rollie Hills played their hockey here for quite a few years with various local aggregations.

So it requires no persuasion at all for fans here to join with those of Luscar, and the entire Coal Branch for that matter, in wishing the team continued success in their drive for titular honors.

Paul Runge, who played all of his hockey in amateur days on the covered and outdoor rinks of Edmonton, grabbed himself a share of the big-league spotlight last night by scoring the only goal as Boston Bruins took a much-needed win at the expense of the high-flying Detroit Red Wings.

Hopes For Inter-City Soccer

Jock McEwen, long connected with soccer football hereabouts both as a player and latterly as manager of various clubs, expressed the opinion to your agent yesterday that the formation of a provincial inter-city league is the only possible salvation of the sport here this summer.

It is Jock's belief that only by having a league comprising one team from this city, and teams in Calgary, Drumheller and Lethbridge will the kicking pastime be brought back to a place in the local sports limelight again.

There seems to be a lot of logic in this contention, too. . . . Even the most rabid soccerite will admit that competition is needed to be done to put the game back on its feet here. . . . There can be no doubt but that it has slipped backwards a long ways lately and only something along the lines suggested will ever put it on a standard that will meet with the approval of the general soccer-going public. . . .

It is to be hoped—from a local standpoint—that the same views exist in the south with respect to an inter-city league.

Smythe Not Friendly To Rangers

Conny Smythe, boss of Toronto Maple Leafs, apparently has little use for the owners of New York Rangers; so little, in fact that he recently gave out one of his typical interviews, in which he described them as the "stepout" in the National Hockey League.

Smythe dislikes them so much that he openly hopes their team—which he, originally, played a big part in assembling—fails to reach the playoffs season. . . . Says Conny:

"They have made the post-season playoffs every year since they entered the league but this has been due to the veterans they started with and who are still with the club, and the master-minding of Lester Patrick.

"They are owned by the biggest and wealthiest corporation in the league, but they are also the cheapest. We have spent $10 to strengthen our club for every dollar they have spent. Boston has spent money freely and even their New York rivals, the Americans, spent more money this season than Rangers."

That won't make much of a hit with the Madison Square Garden outfit, but it contains a lot of truth, at that.

JACKS ARE AGAIN ALBERTA CHAMPS

RAYMOND, March 11—Another Alberta senior men's basketball championship was taken by Raymond Union Jacks here last night when they defeated the University of Alberta Golden Bears 45-35. Jacks took the two-game series 89-69, having won the first encounter at Edmonton 44-34.

Jacks led 23-22 at half time.

DAFFY DODGER CLUB MYSTERY BALL BUSTERS

Maestro Casey Stengel In Dark As Much As Any Of the Experts

By EDDIE BRIETZ

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 11—Those merry Brooklyn Dodgers stand out as the year's No. One mystery team in the National Baseball League.

Maestro Casey Stengel is as much in the dark as anybody. All he knows is that he has a flock of ball players down here. He hasn't the faintest idea who'll be where, or why, when the time comes to answer the opening gong.

THREE BIG DEALS

During the winter Stengel made three big deals, involving 13 players and nearly $60,000 in cash, with the New York Giants, Boston Bees and Newark International.

Ed Brandt, southpaw, Fred Frankhouse, veteran righthander, and Outfielder Randy Moore were acquired from Boston in return for Catcher Al Lopez, Pitchers Ray Benge, Johnny Babich and Bobby Reis; Infielder Tony Cuccinello and Outfielder Gene Moore. Sam Leslie, first sacker, went to the Giants for $20,000 and the Dodgers then gave Newark $40,000 and Outfielder Ralph Boyle and First Baseman Johnny McCarthy for Buddy Hassett, one of the best looking first sackers in the game.

REGULAR STARTERS

Brandt and Frankhouse are figured to be regular starters along with Outfielder Jim Clark, another left hander; George Earnshaw, who is in the best shape of his career; and Van Eargle Mungo the ace of the staff. The latter still is listed as a holdout but his early signing is regarded as a certainty.

Emil Leonard, the sinker ball expert, will share in the relief duties with the veteran Tom Zachary, Al Butcher and Wayne Osborne, two big right-handers from Galveston and the San Francisco Missions, look best among the youngsters. . . .

Most of the catching will be done by Gordon Phelps, Lopez's understudy last year. Raymond Berres, leading catcher of the Pacific Coast league in 1935, and Walter Millies, from Chattanooga, are fighting it out for the second string berth.

YOUNG INFIELDERS

Two of the four infield positions must be filled by youngsters. Hassett will be at first and Linus Frey

Also Captures Best Three-Game Total In 10-pin League Game

Bruce Wilkins, trundling with Victoria Cafe team, rolled the first perfect 10-pin score in a league game at the Recreation Bowling Academy last night.

Bruce also captured high three game score as his mates won a brace of games against the Rialto Theatre crew in a Senior League encounter, despite Ed (Max) Beckwith's single game of 210 score.

In the finals of the Junior K.O. Jack Marshall defeated Ted Green in the best three of five games to win the top notch tailor event. All five games were hard fought and of good calibre.

In the fours of the competition Green beat Charlie Smith and Jack Marshall defeated Finlay. This winds up the tournament and all prizes will be given away tonight, (Wednesday) at the Recreation office.

PRETTY SONJA UNDECIDED ON FUTURE WORK

The Norwegian girl, holder of the world title since 1926 and winner of three Olympic crowns, is sure she's through with competition. She's just as certain she is not going to get married right away—at least not to her friend, Jeff Dickson, an American who is well known for his European sports promotion.

But she doesn't know whether she will go into the movies or turn professional. She's leaving that up to her manager and her parents. Sonja has had several offers and plans to take a screen test this week before going to Hollywood.

MAGIN RETAINS SINGLES HONORS

NEW YORK, March 11—Gregory Magin retained the United States indoor singles tennis championship with a 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 win last night over Leonard Hartman, former Columbia university basketball star. It was Magin's fourth triumph in the championship in five years.

BRUINS LESSEN RANGERS' CHANCES

Local Boy Counts Goal for Triumph

Paul Runge Scores Tally For Important Victory Over Detroit Red Wings In Overtime Contest.

BOSTON, March 11. — Paul Runge's accurate slashing in a mob-milling about the Detroit net gave Boston Bruins a 1-0 overtime victory over the American division leaders last night before 15,000 fans.

The vital tally, which increased the Bruins' playoff chances considerably, came halfway through an overtime session. Bill Cowley batted the puck to Runge while facing off against Gordon Pettinger. Five Bruins had moved into Detroit's zone for this play and Runge drove the puck to Babe Siebert. That burly defenceman lashed a high shot at Goalie Smith's net and, when Peggy O'Neil batted it down, the rubber disappeared in the crowd struggling in the crease.

The keen-eyed Runge sighted it and whacked it home to give the Bruins their second triumph over the Red Wings in three days. The reverse was the third in four days for Detroit.

The victory placed the Bruins three points ahead of New York Rangers in the battle for the third and last American division playoff berth.

SUMMARY

First period: scoring, none. Penalty, Lewis.

Second period: scoring, none. Penalties, none.

Third period: scoring, none. Penalties, none.

Overtime period: 1—Boston, Runge, (O'Neil, Siebert, Cowley), 4:54. Penalties, none.

Maroons are Held To Tie By Rangers

MONTREAL, March 11.— Montreal Maroons and New York Rangers fought through 70 minutes of hard-shifting hockey to a scoreless tie last night in a National Hockey League game that reached its fastest pace in the overtime as both teams tried hard for victory.

Rangers lost ground in their battle for a play-off berth as Boston's Bruins and Detroit increased Bruins' third-place margin in the league's American section to three points over last-place Blue Shirts. The one point earned by Maroons in their tie set them into a first-place deadlock with Toronto in the Canadian division.

Maroons had a wide margin of play in the first period but Rangers took the edge in the robustly played second that saw Lionel Conacher and Art Coulter exchange blows with gloves off. Conacher, checked along the boards by Murray Murdock was wrestling with him when Coulter went to Murdock's aid.

SUMMARY

First period: scoring, none. Penalties: Gracie, Coulter 7, Shibicky, and Siebrid.

Americans Defeat Toronto Leafs, 3-2

NEW YORK, March 11.—Coming from behind with a two-goal outburst in the final frame, New York Americans defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 in a fast but clean National Hockey League match played before 8,000 fans here last night.

The triumph practically clinched a Stanley Cup play-off berth for the winners, who are now five points ahead of the fourth place Montreal Canadiens. The loss dropped Toronto into a tie with Montreal Maroons for leadership of the Canadian division.

LEAFS START WELL

Leafs started like certain winners but were unable to score until early in the second period when big Charlie Conacher took Joe Primeau's pass at the blue line, circled the American cage, and flipped the rubber past the astonished goalkeeper Roy Worters.

Deed Klein squared matters for the star spangled band 10 minutes later by driving a low, hard shot into the Toronto net after a passing bout with Nels Stewart and Joe Jerwa. Then Conacher came through with his second goal on passes from Buzz Boll and Bill Thoms.

The Canadian group leaders elected to take matters easy starting the last chapter and it proved their undoing. Tommy Anderson hammered a high forward pass into the Toronto cage at the seven minute mark on passes from Carl Voss and Eddie Wiseman and then a few minutes later Wiseman duplicated Conacher's first marker to give the Americans a lead they held to the finish.

SUMMARY

First period: scoring, none. Penalty, Blair.

Second period: 1—Toronto, Conacher (Primeau), Davidson), 4:26. 2—Americans, Klein (Stewart, Jerwa), 14:32. 3—Toronto, Conacher (Boll, Thoms) 18:10. Penalty: Blair.

Third period: 4—Americans, Anderson (Voss, Wiseman), 7:06. 5—Americans, Wiseman, 9:22. Penalties, none.

WINNIPEGS WON'T PLAY IN SERIES

WINNIPEG, March 11—The Winnipeg Hockey Club has declined to take part in a play-off series with the Fort William Wanderers for the championship of the Manitoba-Thunder Bay Hockey League, A. E. H. Coo, president of the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, announced Tuesday.

Mr. Coo said the Winnipegs believed they were being unfairly dealt with in negotiations carried on between the M. A. H. A. and the Thunder Bay Hockey Association. He added that he himself concurred in this opinion.

The Thunder Bay Association has announced that an appeal will be made to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to prevent the Winnipeg Memorial representing Manitoba in the Allan Cup playdowns.

WON'T SWITCH OLYMPIC VENUE

HONOLULU, March 11. — There is no possibility of transferring the Olympic games from Berlin this summer because of the European situation, Count Henri Baillet-Latour of Belgium, president of the International Olympics, said Tuesday.

"The only thing that can stop the games is war," he said, "and if there is war, there will be no games at all."

ROBBIE STAR BUT WINDSOR BEATEN

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 11— Capture of second and third goals by Ralph Rennie and Walter (Whitey) Farrant, gave Rochester Cardinals a 2-0 victory over Windsor Bulldogs in an International Hockey league game here last night.

Elmwoods Enter Semi-Final Round

WINNIPEG, March 11.—Elmwood Maple Leafs last night qualified to meet Portage La Prairie Terriers in Manitoba's junior hockey semi-finals by defeating Winnipeg Rangers 6-5 in a 20-minute overtime struggle.

As Leafs won the first game 6-3, they took the two-out-of-three series in straight games. The Elmwood-Portage series opens here Friday night with the return match at Portage next Monday. The third game, if necessary, will be played here.

Olympiad Decision "Up To Government"

PARIS, March 11.—France's participation in the Olympic Games is "up to the government," Armand Massey, president of the French Olympic committee, said Tuesday. "The question is one of diplomacy now, not sports," Massey said. "We are awaiting the government's attitude."

Minneapolis Wins Over Tulsa Sextet

KANSAS CITY, March 11.—Minneapolis Warriors defeated Kansas City Greyhounds 1-0 here last night in an overtime struggle, checking Greyhounds hopes of winning a spot in the American Hockey Association play-offs. Presiesnick scored the winning goal 15 seconds before the end of the game.

Laura McVeigh Wins In Draw

Miss Laura McVeigh, of 11938 107 street was the lucky ticket winner in the Glenora Club draw it was announced by club officials last night.

Wichita Skyhawks Win From Saints

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 11—An overtime goal by Joe Papike gave Wichita Skyhawks a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Flyers here last night in an American Hockey Association encounter.

Britons Triumph

EALING, Eng., March 11—The touring United States women's squash racquets team was defeated by a British men's team 5 to 0 Tuesday in a handicap match.

FRANK MOSS UNLUCKY

LONDON—Frank Moss, Arsenal's international goalkeeper, is one of the unluckiest players in soccer today. Towards the end of last season the Gunners' custodian suffered an injury that kept him out of the game until a few weeks ago. Playing against Blackburn Rovers, Feb. 8 he dislocated his shoulder and it is possible he will be unable to line up with his team again this season.

Hockeyists Berserk

Climax to a fight between Hector "Toe" Blake of Montreal Canadiens and Ebbie Goodfellow of Detroit Red Wings at the latter's hockey arena stage when spectators joined hockeyists in an attack on Blake as he was led off the ice. After a near riot, police managed to put the quietus on the melee, but only after sticks and fists were brought into use. The trouble all started when Blake struck Goodfellow from the rear with his stick after a private scrap, according to observers. Sequel to this and other hockey fights was decision of the N.H.L. board of governors to levy an automatic fine of $100 upon any player swinging his stick in belligerent manner at another player.

Bisons Draw Up On Loop Leaders

DETROIT, March 11—The scrappy Buffalo Bisons drew within one point of the International Hockey league's eastern section lead here last night by handing the Detroit Olympics a 2-0 shut-out before 4,000 fans.

GRASS COURTS FOR ZONE FINAL

NEW YORK, March 11.—The United States Lawn Tennis Association, yielding to Australia's wish, announced Tuesday that the anticipated North American Zone Davis cup final between the Aussies and Uncle Sam's representatives will be played on the grass courts of the Germantown cricket club, near Philadelphia.

The matches have been scheduled tentatively for the May 30 week-end, assuming that Australia eliminates Cuba and the United States disposes of Mexico in first round matches.

Contract Bridge

By E. V. Shepard

AN AMAZING JUMP

Players often do what appears surprising to others, probably because of difference in viewpoints. The other evening my partner surprised me with a call, which from his side of the table appeared the correct thing, but which from my side of the table seemed an amazing jump on the value he held. The deal is shown below. He sat North.

Bidding went: South, 1-No Trump; North, 6-No Trump. The call naturally caused me to bid 7-No Trumps, as it distinctly meant "Partner, go another trick, if you hold a full probable trick strength greater than needed for a sound opening bid." Using the 6-4-3-2-1 honor count, which is slightly the best of all, I held a 24-point count, or a full 4 points more than required for a sound opening bid. My partner held the same count, leaving 16 points held adversely. That is too small declaring strength to fully justify small slam expectations. Had I had the unjustified grand slam I would have fulfilled my contract, as all opposing honors were held almost as I would have arranged them, had I the choice.

Mr. Kurt Wandel made an opening lead of the Q of spades. An opening lead of a low spade would have yielded the same results. Dummy's K won. A low heart was won with my Q, and I proceeded to pick up 2 added spade tricks, by leading the 10 toward dummy's Ace. East let go two hearts and a diamond.

So many hearts had been let go that it seemed safe to lead dummy's K. Then came the 2 of clubs. My 4 held the trick on a finesse. The Ace of clubs won the eighth trick. When my 6 of clubs was led West showed out, so that I got no 9 of diamonds from my 8. K won, but East held the top club, and another suit had to be opened.

Dummy's Q of diamonds was led. East's K of diamonds covered and I had to win with the Ace. That was the tenth straight trick. I could run off, thanks to the unusually favorable way adversely held honors lay. As I was not coming back to my hand after I led another diamond I took the Ace of hearts for our eleventh trick, discarding thereon dummy's losing club. Dummy was down to the 8 of diamonds. West held two diamonds. East held one club and one diamond. Between East and West I knew that the 9 of diamonds was held two diamonds. East held one club and one diamond. Between East and West I knew that the 9 of diamonds was held by one of them. Which one was the problem. Had I had 1-No Trumps I would have played West for the missing 10, and finessed dummy's 9. Not needing both diamond tricks to fulfil the small slam contract I would have been foolishly to risk losing to a doubleton and a club in my hand. So I got up dummy's 9 for a safe small trick.

Meehan to Feature Rasslin' Card Here

Meets Mystery Wrestler, While Meyers Back For Main Event

There's special entertainment for the mat multitude, for, besides the mystery man, Friday's bouts will mark the return of that villainous gent named Eddie Meyers, who, for some time has been out of action with a badly injured hand and arm.

Many have been awaiting the match between "toughy" Meyers and another gent who can really "dish it out," and, on Friday, Meyers will be matched against just that kind of an opponent in Otto Clingman, who will headline the bouts with Meyers.

MEEHAN MAY STAR

But supporting the headline will be a couple of semi-mains that should bring forth every kind of entertainment. Gus will have Pat Meehan, the splendidly proportioned Edmonton policeman and the Purple Man. Also on the card will be Rob Roy against Horace "Sonny Boy" Barber, and this pair will open the card at 8:30 o'clock.

Special interest, however, will be pointed toward Meehan in his semi-main go. Meehan meets the Purple Man, a gent of mystery here, but considered a real rassler over the line. Meehan, who last week brought the crowd enmass to its feet with a popular victory, has been going great guns lately. He has turned in several fine performances and is expected to give an even more pleasing show against the Purple-garbed mat artist.

As usual, and adding more color to the bouts, will be Referee Maurice "Kayo" DeBleick. Maurice will start the bouts at exactly 8:30 o'clock, and a seat sale will open at Mike's early Thursday.

Late Goal Wins

PITTSBURGH, March 11—A goal by Jean Bourcier in the last second of a 10-minute overtime period gave the Pittsburgh Shamrocks a thrilling 5-4 victory over the Cleveland Falcons in an International league hockey game here last night.

HANSON BIG SHOT OF ST. PAUL'S WIN

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 11—St. Paul clinched first place in the American hockey association for the second consecutive year by swamping Tulsa 10-2 here last night. Oscar Hanson of Camrose, league's leading scorer, got three goals and assisted in two others.

YORK BENTLEY BATTLES LUST ON THURSDAY

Well Matched Programme Is Arranged For Sunnydale Gym

A well-matched boxing card, to be held in the Edmonton Olympic Club (known as Sunnydale pavilion on 102 street) has been arranged for Thursday night of this week.

The card will feature Emil Lust, well known welter here, matched against Yorkey Bentley in a 10-round joust and should prove plenty good for the fighting patrons of this city.

Supporting the main bout will be Eddie McSporran, of Edmonton, against Tiger Ford, a newcomer from Montreal, and both will be fighting hard for the decision.

Lust is well known here as he fought Blechliner here, and has also fought Gordon Wallace, Tommy Bland and others well known in the welter division.

But in Bentley, Lust will find a smart boxer and one with a good ring record. His record shows knockouts over Fraser, Wysel, Sazzola, J. Wilson and B. Dixon, of Seattle and B. Matuenko of Calgary.

The six-round special has Bennie Tait who is making a strong comeback, matched with Teddy Curtis, of Mayerthorpe, and a four-round opener will bring Johnny Donald against "Silent" Defoe.

This should be an interesting card for Edmonton's boxing fans to watch.

Coach Pudas Has Nothing To Add

PORT ARTHUR, March 11—J. Albert Pudas, coach of Canada's Olympic hockey team that lost the title to England, arrived home Tuesday. He had little to add to statements that already have been given out by Canadian hockey officials concerning the outcome of the series.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, March 11.—American millers are withdrawing Canadian wheat out of bond and these stocks have decreased 1,500,000 this week. They have already paid duty on 23,000,000 compared to 9,000,000 a year ago, but it is usual for this business to diminish in the spring unless cash wheat premiums in America remain extraordinarily high.

Several breaks have been made in Minneapolis high protein cash wheat recently, which indicates that elevator interests may be more willing to accept these good prices before the end of the crop year instead of transferring their hedges over into the July position at a considerable discount.

London reported the purchase of a parcel of South Australian wheat afloat at 30s 3d per quarter, but no other business was recroded. Vancouver reported a moderate export demand, but sales from the Atlantic were negligible. Total wheat stocks in Canada and the U.S. in store decreased 4,600,000 a week ago, and it is now 21,600,000 smaller than at this time a year ago.

GRAIN INSPECTIONS

WINNIPEG, March 11—Grain inspections Tuesday: Wheat, this year 139 cars, last year 218; cars of contract wheat, 88; oats, 41-55; barley, 10-18; flax, 1-0; rye, nil; other grains, 0-1.

Today's Markets

At Toronto—Mines

TORONTO, March 11.—The mining market drifted down today. Losses, in no cases heavy, were confined mainly to the golds.

In the senior gold group the tone was fairly steady. Hollinger, Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves lost a little while Lake Shore, Dome and Bralorne closed with narrow gains.

Among active secondary golds to drift back 5 to .10 were Siscoe, God's Lake, Perron, Premier and McKenzie. Pickle Crow and Macassa weakened .15 to .20 and Sylvanite 2 to 3.

Recessions of 1 to 3 came out for several active penny stocks, among them Omega, Red Lake, Chibougamau, and Franklin.

Toronto—Industrials

Nickel closed off ⅜ and Smelters dropped 2 points. Walkers common weakened ½ and Distillers Seagrams ⅛.

At New York

NEW YORK, March 11.—Bullish operations in today's stock market were centred principally on industrial specialties and a number of these were pushed up 1 to 6 or more points.

Steels, Rails, Motors and Utilities were belated followers of the forward move. Some profit taking appeared in the last hour, but the close was firm. Despite the sharp gains, the volume approximated only 2,200,000 shares A seemingly better European outlook, together with optimistic economic news, brought in buyers at the opening of trading.

In the forefront of the upturn were farm implement, oil, rubber, aircraft and Alcohol equities. There was a scattering of new five-year highs.

Amerida Oil leaped ahead more than 11 points, but later yielded part of this. Case got up nearly 7 and Deere and International Harvester registered advances of 5 or so each.

Santa Fe was the strong spot in the rails with a gain of about 3. American Bank Note, American Telephone, Seaboard Oil and U.S. Industrial Alcohol stepped up 3 to around 4.

At Montreal

MONTREAL, March 11.—A few soft spots in the metal, bank and paper groups marred Montreal stock exchange list at the close of a quiet session today.

Utilities and distilleries showed fractional improvement but late selling reduced gains in other divisions.

Noranda dipped a point to 48. Nickel finished off about ¾ while smelters held an early two-point gain.

Banks suffered a severe selling attack and Montreal and Royal lost a point or more each while Commerce was 1¾ lower.

Main weak spot in the utility division was Bell Telephone, down about a point at 145.

WHEAT PRICES NOT REGULAR

WINNIPEG, March 11—Wheat prices were mildly irregular on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Values closed ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower, May at 84½ and July and October at 85⅛ cents.

The acute European situation was reflected in a brisk revival of buying for export account. It was estimated 1,250,000 bushels were sold. Fair purchasing by mills and commission houses was reported.

Liverpool, influenced by an improved inquiry for Australian wheat at the opening, closed ⅛d higher to unchanged. Broomhall reported an improved demand for Australian wheat.

Spreads of Nos 1, 2 and 3 northern improved on the cash wheat section. Coarse grains prices were little changed.

WORLD'S LOFTIEST PEAK GOAL OF ENGLISHMEN

Intrepid Party Prepared To Vie With All Danger

New Chapter In History of Exploration!

By MILTON BRONNER
Bulletin's Foreign Correspondent

LONDON, March 11.—Prepared to brave all the dangers that the stratosphere can offer, plus all those of the North or South Polar regions, a little advance party, led by Hugh Ruttledge, left England the other day to make another attempt to explore one of the last unknown spots on this earth—Mt. Everest, the loftiest peak on our globe, soaring 29,140 feet.

It is another chapter in the epic story of man's endeavor to know every nook and crannny of this terrestrial home and to leave no corner of it unexplored. The top of Mt. Everest is one of the few places left where the foot of man has never trod. To the explorers there can be no pecuniary purpose. At the most there would probably be a good book and a lecture tour in it, but that wouldn't make them rich. The peak of Mt. Everest can only attract him who has the thirst for adventure and scientific discovery.

The problem is a stupendous one. Going up to this immense height of nearly six miles above sea level has some of the same elements of difficulty as those faced by balloon expeditions seeking the stratosphere. The air becomes very thin. Its oxygen content is low. The effect on the heart is severe. And there is, of course, the intense cold. In its other aspect, to ascend Everest is like a polar expedition. There is not only the cold, but vast fields of snow, enormous glaciers, constant dangers of avalanches.

winds which rage so that it is almost impossible to keep a shelter tent standing.

LIKE STRATOSPHERE TRIP

The Everest explorer has to climb and climb for the height in conditions that are terribly exhausting. The stratosphere flyer has it over him, because the balloon does the climbing for him. The polar explorer has it over him, because, while it is often necessary to walk across snow fields and glaciers through blizzards and snowstorms, the air is not so rare. Furthermore in recent years it has been demonstrated that a considerable portion of the physical labor of polar expeditions can be obviated by the use of airplanes.

In 1933 the Houston Mt. Everest Flight Expedition, led by Air Commodore Fellowes and the Marquis of Clydesdale, also succeeded in flying over Everest. But that is not the same thing as setting foot on its topmost peak and making scientific observations.

In that way, grim old Chomo-Lungma, as the Tibetans call the mountain, still stands unconquered. Its Tibetan title means "Goddess Mother of the World." In the past, four attempts have been made to scale it—in 1921, 1922, 1924 and 1933. The first was really a sort of reconnaisance party. In 1922 some of the members of the party reached 26,800 feet without oxygen and others achieved 27,300 with oxygen. In 1924, 28,000 feet was attained without oxygen. A few days later two members of the party, supplied with oxygen, set out to go even higher, but they never came back. In 1933 F. S. Smythe, who is going also with the 1936 party, reached 28,199 feet—the highest ever attained.

RUTTLEDGE AGAIN COMMANDS

The present expedition is backed by an English committee headed by Major-General Sir Percy Cox. As in the 1933 party, the leader will be Hugh Ruttledge. Nine of the party of 12 white men were with him in the 1933 trip. As Ruttledge is now 51, he will not take part in the final dash for the top, but will leave that to younger men whom he will choose.

SEVEN CAMPS PLANNED

As in polar expeditions, camps are established at various points on the way where food, fuel and tents are left. In 1933 Camp 6 was up at 27,400 feet. This time it will be somewhat lower, and Camp 7 will be about 27,800 feet. From there it is estimated it will take 15 hours to achieve the peak—1,340 feet higher. The plan is to allow nine hours for the terrible upward climb and six hours for the return. The start will be made at 6 a.m., and there will be daylight until 7 p.m. But for safety's sake a lamp will be fixed at Camp 7 in case of darkness before the party returns.

For connection with the outside world the party will have a wireless receiving and transmitting set, capable of sending short wave messages 10 miles. It is hoped to use this as high as Camp 5 which will be at an altitude of 25,700 feet, making it the highest land wireless station in the world.

WOMAN HEAD AT SCHOOL TO BE REPLACED

Suggest Salaries for Married Men Teachers be On Higher Scale

Notices of motion that women principals in schools of more than three rooms be replaced next term by men principals and that salaries for married men teachers be higher than for unmarried men teachers in any new pay scale were placed on the order paper by Trustee Dr. W. Morrish at Tuesday night's meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board.

These notices were brought in at the close of the meeting and will be moved and discussed at the next session.

ASK REVIVAL P.T.A.

The meeting was attended by a delegation from the Edmonton Mothers' Council, headed by Mrs. A. Murdoch, who asked that the one-time parents-teachers association be revived.

They also urged that the practice of saluting the flag in the lower grades be abolished, stating that it taught blind patriotism which was not desirable.

Members of the board stated that they could not organize a parents-teachers association but that, if they so desired, parents were privileged to visit schools and see the work being done. On a motion by S. A. G. Barnes, trustee, the secretary was instructed to communicate this information to community leagues.

The resolution regarding the flag drew the ire of Mrs. I. Ross, trustee, who declared, "I feel that this resolution should not be discussed in this board. I am entirely against it and I am surprised at any group coming here to suggest such a thing."

EXCHANGED VIEWS

Dr. C. B. Willis, director of guidance, who at the last meeting submitted a report outlining projected work in teacher and pupil rating was asked to appear before the teachers' alliance to explain the nature and method of his work.

The board authorized Dr. Willis to proceed with investigation of cases of slow-progressing pupils with a view to concentrating them in special classes when accommodation is available. Practicability of providing training in handicrafts in intermediate grades, when these are introduced under the new curriculum, will also be studied by the guidance director.

TO PREPARE PLANS

The building commissioner, H. Story, was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for gymnasium annexes to high schools with a view to calling for tenders for one this year.

The medical inspector's report stated that 1613 medical inspections and 267 complete physical examinations were made in the schools in February.

The attendance report showed that, while the February enrolment was 19,543, the average attendance was only 13,641, showing that daily absentees averaged 1,900 of which some 1,300 were in the grade schools.

The board voted to keep night classes open after Easter in dressmaking, machine shop, commercial subjects and oxy-acetylene welding, provided enrolment is at least 10 students in each class.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Dr. F. W. Crang gave notice of motion that high schools be permitted to hold two dances a year instead of one as at present allowed.

Resignation of Miss Vera Clement from the teaching staff was received.

The board agreed to a request from the teachers' alliance that the matter of qualifications of second class certificate teachers be referred to the conference committee for discussion.

Minimum Wage To Be Fixed In N.Z.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, March 11.—Minister of Labor W. H. T. Armstrong announced today a court of arbitration will be asked to fix a minimum wage for adults based upon existing economic conditions and the cost of living.

Armstrong said the court would be asked to make its recommendations within three months of the passage of the labor arbitration amendment bill.

The rates for men will be based upon the needs of a man with a wife and two children, said the labor minister. The rates will be reviewed twice a year.

Defence Filed By Hydro Commission

TORONTO, March 11.—A statement of defence was filed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario at Osgoode Hall Tuesday in the action of the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Co., Beauharnois Power Corporation, Montreal Trust Company, and Iselin Corporation of Canada against the commission, the attorney-general of Ontario and the Royal Trust Company for damages arising out of cancellation of power contracts.

DEATH RATE AMONG VETS INCREASING

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, March 11.—The death rate among pensioned veterans of the Great War is increasing year by year. In 1921 with 19,000 pensioners on the list, 530 died within the year. Last year there were 18,404 pensioners. Disabilities have developed as the years passed and the veterans grew constitutionally weaker. Last year 990 pensioners died, and in 1936 it is expected that 1,100 will not see the year's end.

Nobody knows how the other old soldiers are faring. There are 28,000 veterans who took out insurance under the soldiers' insurance scheme and the policyholders are dying at the rate of 250 a year. Curiously, although the soldiers who took government insurance were those who could not get it from the line companies, having disabilities, the death incidence has been the same as among normal policyholders.

Taking the death rate among the insured soldiers as a criterion, and the 400,000 soldiers who survived the Great War, there have been nearly 70,000 war veterans passed on since the war. No authoritative figures have ever been possible because many die unrecorded and no check has been kept of soldiers after demobilization save the pensioners and insured. There have been 10,428 veterans die since 1921 as a result of war disabilities.

Expect Big Tourist Rush To Callander

TORONTO, March 11.—In anticipation of the rush of tourists expected to come to see the Dionne quints this summer, the department of health has sent an inspector to Callander to examine sanitation there, Hon. J. A. Faulkner announced today.

The minister said that inspectors would also make other examinations in the north country where large numbers of visitors are expected.

Fatal Injuries

VANCOUVER, March 11.—Struck by a street car at Nicola and Pendrell street, Miss Elizabeth Logan, aged about 80, died in hospital last night two hours after the accident.

IMPROVEMENT IS NOTED IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, March 11—A general improvement in the economic life of Nova Scotia, with a decrease of 27 per cent in the number of people on relief, was reported in the speech from the throne Tuesday as Lieut-Governor Covert formally opened the legislative assembly.

The year under review had been one of encouragement for the farmers. It had been a "most prosperous" year for the fruit-growers, higher prices and better quality of fruit having resulted in an increase in income of $1,000,000.

Dies At Throttle

BASSANO, Alta., March 11—Wm. D. MacKinnon, 53, Medicine Hat, Alta., died suddenly Tuesday as he sat at the throttle of a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train, near Bassano. The engineer's death was caused by heart failure. No inquest will be held. The fireman, A. Stack, brought the train into Bassano.

The Pasteur treatment for rabies is more than 50 years old.

TOURIST GUIDE BOOKLET URGED

Taking the stand that Edmonton should make a strong bid this year for tourist trade, the Edmonton Town Planning Commission Tuesday recommended to council that a tourist guide booklet containing facts about the city and district be published with the co-operation of the Alberta Motor Association and the Chamber of Commerce.

The proposal was sponsored by H. Milton Martin, chairman of the commission, and Prof. C. S. Burgess, also a member of the commission.

It was felt that with the completion of an all-weather highway to Jasper Park, Edmonton could expect an increase in tourist business and that every effort should be made to attract holiday travellers.

Vancouver Woman Dies After Crash

INDIO, Calif., March 11—Mrs. Gertrude Walker, 50, Vancouver, whose back was broken in an automobile accident, died at Coachella Valley hospital Tuesday.

Slightly injured in the accident also were her son-in-law and daughter, August Godoy, of the Cuban consulate at Seattle, and Mrs. Kathleen Godoy.

Radio Is Subject Of Cairns' Speech To Cosmopolitans

Radio and Radio Broadcasting was the subject chosen by Bert Cairns when he addressed the Cosmopolitan Club of Edmonton Tuesday noon.

Mr. Cairns related some of the interesting incidents encountered in the field of radio announcing, illustrating with several amusing examples the possibilities for making unfortunate mistakes, which cannot be corrected once they are made. He pointed out the fact that the radio announcer is under a terrific strain owing to the fact that errors are irrevocable.

The compensations, however, make up for the exacting nature of the work. Thrills in radio, such as taking part in the Christmas Day Empire-wide programs, the interest shown by the public and the feeling that you are engaged in a work that is alive and moving forward every day make radio work one of the most exciting occupations there is, Mr. Cairns claimed.

Attempt Lynching

MEXICO, D. F., March 11.—Three thousand residents of Tuxpan, state of Nayarit, enraged at the removal of religious objects from two churches, attempted to lynch several school teachers Tuesday. The teachers fled to Agrarian headquarters, where they were protected by police. Federal troops dispersed the crowd.

CHIROPRACTORS BILL REJECTED

WINNIPEG, March 11. — The Manitoba legislature last night rejected a bill to give chiropractors equal legal status with medical practitioners.

Voting 30 to 13, the house refused second reading of the Chiropractic bill. Subject to lengthy debate, the bill provided licensing of chiropractors and regulation of the profession by those in the profession.

First reading was given a bill to validate a Winnipeg bylaw to permit issuing of $1,100,000 in debentures to finance unemployment relief costs. Mayor John Queen (Lab., Winnipeg) said the city wanted to take advantage of a good bond market.

Three Charged With Attempted Breaking

VANCOUVER, March 11—Three men, Fred Roberts, 34, Alfred Gammon, 31, and Wilfred Greenaway, 27, were charged Tuesday with attempted breaking and entering in connection with discovery of a tunnel leading under the Kingsway branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here yesterday.

Roberts faces an additional charge of carrying a gun which police allege was found on his person.

E. E. Ellis Dies

SHORT HILLS, N.J., March 11—E. E. Ellis, vice-president of the United States Steel Corporation, died of pneumonia last night at his home. He was stricken only a few days ago.

Editor To Stand Trial For Libel

ORILLIA, Ont., March 11. — George Bryan Curran, editor and publisher of the Orillia Saturday Night, was committed for trial Tuesday by Magistrate C. I. Bick following preliminary hearing of a charge of defamatory libel, preferred by Mayor J. B. Johnston. Mr. Curran was allowed bail of $1,000.

The charge stated Mr. Curran, in a letter to Attorney-General Arthur W. Roebuck of Ontario, made charges against the mayor which exposed the chief magistrate to "hatred, contempt and ridicule."
